Colleges Plan Yearly Mixer At Boat Club

Get-Acquainted Party Will Be Held Friday Evening, October 4

Students of the College will hold their annual mixer and roller-skate party at the Grand Rapids Boat and Canoe club, Friday, October 4. Students will meet at the boat dock at 8 p.m. and transportation to the rink will be supplied. Identification cards will be required.

William Alexander and James Burns have arranged the entertainment for the mixer. George Smith, Jerry and Robert Baribeau are co-operating in the general arrangements.

James McCormick and Charles Beckwith will be in charge of transportation. Refreshments are to be arranged by the Misses Janet Koonce, Bernice Sallor, and Olive Tages.

Social Science Group Holds Meeting Today

The Social Science Forum, organized by the Junior faculty at this college, will meet at 3:30 p.m. Monday, October 4. The topic of discussion will be "The Liberal College and Preserving Truth" explained by Malachy, librarian. The purpose of the Forum is to bring students and faculty together with the local residents and to discuss matters of current interest in our own field of studies. The Forum will meet every month on the second Monday of each month.

Majority Of Last Year's Graduates Attend Senior Colleges, Universities

Miss Margaret Hillary has enrolled at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids for a course in nursing. While Miss Jeane Ryals has transferred on a scholarship to St. Teresa's college in Winona, Minnesota, pursuing a course in physiotherapy.

Among the graduates of 1940 who are employed is Mary Rita Willems, secretary at the G.C.J.C.蜥蜴豹, and also her brother, James A. Oesterle, of this city, is a new instructor in English. He is an assistant in the Catholic and non-Catholic Press and Philosophy in various present-day problems.

Several students of the College are planning to attend the third annual Catholic Educational Press Conference, held in Milwaukee, October 12-13, to discuss the Catholic Press in the World Today.

Several students of the College are planning to attend the third annual Catholic Educational Press Conference, held in Milwaukee, October 12-13, to discuss the Catholic Press in the World Today.

Several students of the College are planning to attend the third annual Catholic Educational Press Conference, held in Milwaukee, October 12-13, to discuss the Catholic Press in the World Today.

Several students of the College are planning to attend the third annual Catholic Educational Press Conference, held in Milwaukee, October 12-13, to discuss the Catholic Press in the World Today.

Several students of the College are planning to attend the third annual Catholic Educational Press Conference, held in Milwaukee, October 12-13, to discuss the Catholic Press in the World Today.
More than a hundred and twenty-five students attended holy Mass at St. Andrew's cathedral, September 18, formally opening the first academic year of Aquinas College.

Why The Missal

It was a large and formal Mass, and the presiding priest, Father Bonaventura J. C. A. was so impressed by the manner in which the students behaved during the celebration that he decided to include a special note in his homily.

The missal has always been considered a sacred book, and it is to be expected that the students would be respectful and reverent during its use.

At Mass

The Missal is in itself a literary masterpiece. The beauty of the missal, the partaking of the sacrifice, and the preservation of Christian principles are all entwined in its fabric.

The Missal as a Work of Art

One of the most beautiful aspects of the missal is its design and layout. The pages are carefully arranged, with each section of the liturgy clearly marked. The typeface is large and legible, and the margins are generous, allowing for easy reading.

The Missal as a Source of Inspiration

The missal is not just a book of prayers, but a source of inspiration for those who use it. The prayers and readings contained within it are a constant reminder of the love and sacrifice that Christ made for us.

The Missal as a Way of Life

Ultimately, the missal is a way of life. It is a constant reminder of the love and sacrifice that Christ made for us, and it encourages us to live our lives in a manner that reflects that love and sacrifice.
Prepares for demonstration Friday afternoon. Miss Elaine Angelbeck at the controls of the plane in which she gave a demonstration flying lesson at the air show Saturday afternoon. Miss Angelbeck is a student of the Flying League of America, which co-sponsored the show with the Grand Rapids Junior Association of Commerce.

Le Cercle Francais Elects Leader, Plans Meetings For Year
William Alexander, third-year French student, was elected president of the Le Cercle Francais, a French cultural group sponsored by the Grand Rapids Junior Association of Commerce. Miss Elaine Angelbeck was selected for this special recognition because of her progress as a student flier in the series of lessons she took at the airport this summer under the flying stamp plan operated by the league. She now has a cumulative record of four hours in the air and is looking forward to the time when she will be qualified to begin her solo flight.

La Sunshine State Offers Sister Noella Perfect Setting For Ideal Vacation
Every man at some time or other seems to dream of a land of beauty and contentment. Sir Thomas More had visions of a heaven island state which he named "Utopia." James Hilton pictured "Shangri La." Joseph Bernier, Joseph Bukrey, John Irwin, Edward Hencir, Tereshak, Robert Barnett, Bernard Charles Beckmann and Edward McKenna, chairman, assisted by Charles Chulk, Edwin Dewar, William Alexander, third-year instructor in the demonstration series, Miss Angelbeck was selected for this special recognition because of her progress as a student flier in the series of lessons she took at the airport this summer under the flying stamp plan operated by the league. She now has a cumulative record of four hours in the air and is looking forward to the time when she will be qualified to begin her solo flight.

Mr. Let's All Patronize Our Advertisers

Sister M. Aquin, O.P., is the only one of 100 members of the Aquinas College faculty, during the first few days of school, instructed to present a medal. The other recipients of this special recognition because of their contributions to the work of the educational faculty advisers, be presented a medal for distinguished contribution to the work of the educational press of the Church in the United States. Sister M. Aquin is the only Michigan adviser to receive a medal. The other recipients of this honor come from the states of Washington, Missouri, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Indiana, Minnesota, and Ohio.

Pledge to Explore These Mighty Creatures of Anticipation, and his feet feel the tamed land of the "Sunshine State." Her praise of New Mexico train, was over-awed by the mountains, a benevolent sun, a state, "is sufficient to overhead one with the sense of human smallness. The land is indifferently potted, the imponderables so much needed by a world of getting and spending. It is magnificent forever rewarding to one courageous enough to seek to renew his own soul."

Miss Elaine Angelbeck at the controls of the plane in which she gave a demonstration flying lesson at the air show Saturday afternoon. Miss Angelbeck is a student of the Flying League of America, which co-sponsored the show with the Grand Rapids Junior Association of Commerce.

Le Cercle Francais Elects Leader, Plans Meetings For Year
William Alexander, third-year French student, was elected president of the Le Cercle Francais, a French cultural group sponsored by the Grand Rapids Junior Association of Commerce. Miss Elaine Angelbeck was selected for this special recognition because of her progress as a student flier in the series of lessons she took at the airport this summer under the flying stamp plan operated by the league. She now has a cumulative record of four hours in the air and is looking forward to the time when she will be qualified to begin her solo flight.

Instructors, Students Return With Accounts Of Pleasant Vacations
"What did you do with yourself this summer?" This was a familiar question around the halls of Aquinas, among both students and faculty, during the first few days of school. The Rev. Arthur F. Bukowski, president of the college, said that he had busied himself in teaching a course in philosophy at the summer school at Marywood, and also in recruiting new students. For recreation he spent a week at his home in Bay City, "playing a lot of golf."

Three Alumni Marry
Dan Cupid is having his way with Catholic Junior graduates and former students.

Miss Mary Dufty, student at the College in 1928-29, will be married to Linus A. Maino, M.D., in St. Aloysius church, Detroit, September 25. After a reception from 2 to 5 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents, SSF iqoules avenue, Detroit, the couple will leave for a two-week's trip through New York and Maine.

Miss Lorraine Loving, '56, has announced September 28 as the date of her marriage to Donald E. Stewart, and Miss Roselyn Cavers, '32, will marry Franz Josef Hartmacke, November 30, in St. Stephen's church.

Three Alumni Marry
Dan Cupid is having his way with Catholic Junior graduates and former students.

Miss Mary Dufty, student at the College in 1928-29, will be married to Linus A. Maino, M.D., in St. Aloysius church, Detroit, September 25. After a reception from 2 to 5 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents, SSF iqoules avenue, Detroit, the couple will leave for a two-week's trip through New York and Maine.

Miss Lorraine Loving, '56, has announced September 28 as the date of her marriage to Donald E. Stewart, and Miss Roselyn Cavers, '32, will marry Franz Josef Hartmacke, November 30, in St. Stephen's church.

Grades Subscribed
The grades of the group of 1946 to send cash subscriptions to The Aquinas Herald are Miss Jeanne Ryskamp, Dan O'Reilly, and Otis Sterrapunk.

Vander Waals-Trodeske, Inc.
Contractors, Engineers Heating, Plumbing, Ventilating
230-238 Winter Ave., N.W. Grand Rapids, Mich. Tel. 5-0507

Haviland Products Co.
15 Putnam, S.W. Distributors for "Aquinas" Waxes and Paints Tel. 5-0401

MEALS and LIGHT LUNCHES to fit your PURSE AND TASTE Fountain Service

The Banquet Barbecue
"Across the Y" Anthony Zavars, Mgr.
Well, Joe, do you like coming back to Aquinas?"

"Yes, Ed, but at least my back will get a rest."

"Get you, Joe. You must have had a vacation."

"Gosh, isn't it a shame! Here we have 150 vocations for nine months, and then when we do get a vacation we have to work even harder."

"That makes two instructors, Ed," Sister Noella remarked that with a smile. "Manana! Manana!"

"What did she tell you?"

"According to her, Ed, she didn't have time to watch us sweat for months and then sit around and wait for the vacation we have to work even harder."

"Okay, Joe, I'll admit that Sister Noella was out west some time during the summer. Then, too, she taught at the Catholic Teachers' College in Loughrin, Cadillac."

"Sister Malachy. Just ask her."

"I think she's right too. She had to have such a snap this summer."

"According to her, Ed, she didn't have time to watch us sweat for months, and then when we do get a vacation we have to work even harder."

"Oh, boy! And political science is her favorite subject."

"Well, Joe, that's just because you are political science major."

"That's what Sister said, Ed."

"What a tragedy! In this day and age, we are losing the love of learning."

The officials had them and all their baggage put out of one room apartemente. The same thing happened a year ago, too.

"Is there any reason why you stepped to think what fine order tenants they were. They never break a contract, no matter how dirty. Why, even a kernel of popcorn was left on the floor one day — and the president had to call in the police to see that the students didn't eat it."

"Then, how do you account for the fact that you have so many pet peeves?"

"Well, if I have any, Joe, it's my case, is worth while. She has her pet peeves, she confides. Anne manages to make her case, is worth while. She has her pet peeves, she confides."

"A hobby, in Anne's favor. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject."

"That's what Sister said, Ed."

"You are certainly going to work to be a Catholic college makes for an atmosphere of education is correlated with the principles of Christianity. This correlation he stated, is the fundamental need in both education and History for Anne's favor."

"It's a very small college — just because they can't pay their rent!"

"The people are so free and prosperous here."

"Manana, Sister Noella! Manana!"

"What will you do tomorrow?"

"I wish we were starting school all over again!"

"Effervescing with the love of learning, magnetic Anne Devine draws friends easily and copiously. Note her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject."

"Okay, Joe, I'll admit that Sister Malachy, at the Catholic Teachers' College we did, but I bet that Mr. Bel- kerwin is a most contradictory personality. Usually easy-going and complacent, he can just as calmly turn into a human dynamo of action, as evidenced in the way he got after the Thanksgiving Day football project last year."

"Here's a fellow who, try as he may, can find no pet peeves. He's too busy looking for worthwhile things, to bother about the insigni- mities."

"What is wrong with our popcorn?"

"Yes, Ed. We had an open house last year."

"That was all that was wrong in it."

"Well, Joe, that's just because you are political science major."

The officials had them and all their baggage put out of one room apartemente. The same thing happened a year ago, too.

"What will you do tomorrow?"

"I wish we were starting school all over again!"

"I'm sorry about making you wait as long, Ed, but Sister Noella was so very enthusiastic about it all. She taught at the Catholic Teachers' College in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She's completely won over by the Hutch 10, is F. B. of the great southwest. It is so different from other parts of the United States. The people are so free and prosperous here."

"What a tragedy! In this day and age, we are losing the love of learning."

The officials had them and all their baggage put out of one room apartemente. The same thing happened a year ago, too.

"Note her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject. Swimming is her favorite subject."

"Okay, Joe, I'll admit that Sister Malachy, at the Catholic Teachers' College we did, but I bet that Mr. Bel- kerwin is a most contradictory personality. Usually easy-going and complacent, he can just as calmly turn into a human dynamo of action, as evidenced in the way he got after the Thanksgiving Day football project last year."

"Here's a fellow who, try as he may, can find no pet peeves. He's too busy looking for worthwhile things, to bother about the insigni- mities."

"What is wrong with our popcorn?"

"Yes, Ed. We had an open house last year."

"That was all that was wrong in it."

"Well, Joe, that's just because you are political science major."

The officials had them and all their baggage put out of one room apartemente. The same thing happened a year ago, too.

"What will you do tomorrow?"

"I wish we were starting school all over again!"

"I'm sorry about making you wait as long, Ed, but Sister Noella was so very enthusiastic about it all. She taught at the Catholic Teachers' College in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She's completely won over by the Hutch 10, is F. B. of the great southwest. It is so different from other parts of the United States. The people are so free and prosperous here."

"What a tragedy! In this day and age, we are losing the love of learning."

The officials had them and all their baggage put out of one room apartemente. The same thing happened a year ago, too.

"What will you do tomorrow?"

"I wish we were starting school all over again!"