Students Join In Observing Pan-American Day, April 14
Large Delegation Will Attend NFCCS Convention; Spanish Club Stages Play

Commemorating the 129th birthday of the voluntary union of pan-American states, 69 Aquinas students will journey to South Bend, Ind., April 16, to take part in a two-day convention observing Pan-American Day. The Spanish Club, continuing the festivities, will present programs at home on April 14 and 15.

The University of Notre Dame and the South Bend Board of Education hosts the fourth annual convention of Catholic College Students, Aquinas being one of 30 participating universities. "Te Kudungo" of Contrasts" will be the subject of the convention, with Father Pattee, authority on Latin American affairs, delivering the main address.

A panel composed of students from both of the Catholic colleges of Chicago will discuss "The Industrialization of Mexico." Texas Board Will Enlarge

The College Board of Trustees decided at its meeting the previous week that the board of the college would be enlarged to consist of 13 members representing the two colleges.

In announcing this action at the March 8 meeting at the Morton hotel, to make its scholarship in houses of a more general character, the college uses a $350 annual and to increase it to $500 a year.

NSA Severs IUS Ties For Failure To Protest

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

NSA Ties With Student Club For Frontenac

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

NSA Ties With Student Club For Frontenac

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

NSA Ties With Student Club For Frontenac

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

NSA Ties With Student Club For Frontenac

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

NSA Ties With Student Club For Frontenac

In the final allocation of funds from the sale of books on the 1948 Philanthropy Campaign, to receive $1,500, the University of Notre Dame, the NSA, and the IUS. The remainder of the Philanthropy to be divided according to the following plan devised by the advisory board: 50% to IUS; 30% to NSA; and 20% to the colleges.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.

In any case, of the students who do not attend the meetings — and according to the attendance figures of the last 12 months, 74% are regularly at the meetings, 74% are regular, 26% are regular, 4% are irregular, 1% are irregular, and 1% do not attend the meetings — the majority of Aquinas students do not attend Student Guild meetings as a rule.
Not a Best-Seller; Surely A Best-Buy Now, Tomorrow

By THOMAS OVERLEES'T

Whether you are looking for an exercise of your spare time, or an exercise for Holy Week reading, or a philosophical and theological approach to the problem of the world's, pick up E. J. Watkin's non-fiction, "The Catholic Centre."

This little volume is a fast reading book; but you will find your curiosity piqued back and re-reading passages, not because you think you have understood it, but because you suddenly realize that they contain so much good sense and humor, that you want to read them over, to see if you had missed something.

Take Chapter III, "Come In Or Go Out," and decide for yourself whether it is worthwhile to read the entire book. You will end up in the last chapter before you knew it.

This is how Holy Week, "The Problem of Suffering," (Chapter IV) is presented to the average readers in its real meaning of the Cross will make you decide to come in.

Just as we speak of "center of attraction", "center the ball," all imply the same thing. And the simple explanation which Mr. Watkin gives is what most of us have been looking for regarding that oft-mentioned, but very nebulous, literary, image.

And it is not dull reading! Constantly one is surprised by the seemingly casual mention of people, conditions, and events with which the author shows the practical application of his basic truths. Where he treats of ecclesiastical materialism and why there was no English bishop elected in the 16th century, you cannot but be impressed at the way he depicts the consistency in us, in our ministerial, in the part of what he really is; knowing what is his, and what is God's. It comes when we know that everything good that is supposed to be lost in the supercilious "Don Quixote" is that evil that can spring from His wayward creatures.

When, on Easter morning, we are so thoroughly conscious of the wonder of the Resurrection, of the love of God, and of what love of God demands. We are liable, for instance, to think

A plague of indulgence applicants to the souls of the war dead can be gained from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday, by the usual conditions of confession, recreation of Communion, and prayers for the intentions of the Holy Father.

BAGATELL

"Two puzzled metaphysicians," still in the dark after a heated class discussion, discovered that a donut is, found the answer in a discussion on Just what a hole in the editors; anyone inspired, or angered, to write and subscribe, is, we hope, not at present available for this page.

We are not forced to choose between a, b) stuff whose meaning, B) stuff questionable, carries either方式, c) or one sufficiently concealed to escape the casual reader, or d) articles conducive to confusion, betterment which will be, by the grace of God, at least readable.

We are all students. But as Catholic students, we know that whatever we are, whatever we do, is a matter of fact, with somebody who is (ahem) a Catholic. And of course, there are the same student, the same subject. Since this paper belongs to all of us, let's all contribute to it.

Not being science students, we can only do our best here. For inspiration, or anger, to write and subscribe, is, we hope, not at present available for this page.

We are all students. But as Catholic students, we know that whatever we are, whatever we do, is a matter of fact. And of course, there are the same student, the same subject. Since this paper belongs to all of us, let's all contribute to it.

The relation of music to moral and religious values needs no talking like the Tribune and Sun, but rather the musical world's. And this, as a matter of fact, is the news of the world.

Mr. Watkin's style is clever and lucid, his ideas are sound, and what he displays good scholarship (the apparent) without being pedantic; his discussion is apt, the examples he gives without becoming "pious."

This book is a good antidote for the poison on which many of us eat.

Award Goes To Gamma Alpha Pi pianist Helen Clifton of Muscatine The Herald Award for this issue by unanimous vote of the editorial staff, for the cultural benefits derived from sum (striving for the Highest), A. WARD, all of us who are Catholics are liable, for instance, to think

Because the play condones divorce, all of us who are Catholics are liable, for instance, to think

Not being science students, we can only do our best here. For inspiration, or anger, to write and subscribe, is, we hope, not at present available for this page.

We are all students. But as Catholic students, we know that whatever we are, whatever we do, is a matter of fact. And of course, there are the same student, the same subject. Since this paper belongs to all of us, let's all contribute to it.

The relation of music to moral and religious values needs no talking like the Tribune and Sun, but rather the musical world's. And this, as a matter of fact, is the news of the world.

Mr. Watkin's style is clever and lucid, his ideas are sound, and what he displays good scholarship (the apparent) without being pedantic; his discussion is apt, the examples he gives without becoming "pious."

This book is a good antidote for the poison on which many of us eat.

Award Goes To Gamma Alpha Pi pianist Helen Clifton of Muscatine The Herald Award for this issue by unanimous vote of the editorial staff, for the cultural benefits derived from sum (striving for the Highest), all of us who are Catholics are liable, for instance, to think
March Of Quarters

Voluntary contributions for the Non-student program, set up at the Fort Wayne Regional Congress, will be collected during the week following Easter (March 30, April 2) by JLC members. The proceeds will be posted up by the International Juvenile Life. Students are encouraged to do their part in the task of fostering the non-student members of the organization, which have been so saturated with supernaturalism that everything they think and do is dictated by it.

One of the first families of Aquinas is the Engemann clan; there has always been one of them at the U. of A. The current head of the tribe is Hubert Martin, lately chairman of the Grand Rapids committee. He has been a member of the League for many years, and has been an active supporter of its work.

Margaret Dow is one of the few Negro scholarship students to the Roman Catholic College students to the Religious Education Office. She is a member of the League, and has been active in its work.

The Very Rev. Arthur F. Bukowski, O.P., president of the college, will conduct Tre Ore services at 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 28.

Carroll’s

Margaret Dow in any job, her decorous manner of speech and actions, her sympathetic insight into problems, and her pre-eminence in the Social Science Forum, and THOMO for whom she is the personification of the activities section.

This history major has a streak of the wandering wanderer in her; an airlines position easily could claim a whole of the personality. But to really know this shy, petticoated, smiling self.

One of the first families of Aquinas is the Engemann clan; there has always been one of them at the U. of A. The current head of the tribe is Hubert Martin, lately chairman of the Grand Rapids committee.

One of the first families of Aquinas is the Engemann clan; there has always been one of them at the U. of A.

Margaret Dow in any job, her decorous manner of speech and actions, her sympathetic insight into problems, and her pre-eminence in the Social Science Forum, and THOMO for whom she is the personification of the activities section.

This history major has a streak of the wandering wanderer in her; an airlines position easily could claim a whole of the personality. But to really know this shy, petticoated, smiling self.

Margaret Dow was one of the few Negro scholarship students to the Roman Catholic College students to the Religious Education Office. She is a member of the League, and has been active in its work.
The pom-ping tug will start today in the Union room, and Club Vice President is asked to contact his opponent and arrange a match time. Watch the Bulletin Board for pairings and results.

Jack Westerman: The "lob" and "slam" shots usually give the opponent to "slam" the little pill though not innovated at Aquinas, and the opponent "isn't", or (2) or (3) put spin on the ball so that he has to get into the fray are asked to sign up with Coach Henry. Anyone interested in play­ ing ping-pong using their cleavers will be out on the green as soon as weather permits, along with most of the Maroon and Grey and the East. Bob McNamaghey, Jack Westerman, Marion Fewless, Danny Schmidt, and Joe Szalkowski are candidates for the job of re­ ceiving.

The Aquinas golf team, coached by Father Fay, has six men, and the team has been named as the Maroon and Grey to rest of the year. Joe Szalkowski, top Aquinas golfer, will be a leader both on and off the course, as he is a good sportsman, with a lot of ambition. Fathers and mothers of last year's club, will be on hand this season. Coaches to bolster the Maroon and Grey are Danny Schmidt, Marion Fewless, Ferrie MacMinnick and Bob McNamaghey.

The team hailed the return of Joe Duran, who was injured early in the season last year. Don will share pitching duties with Jack Keena, Danny Hefferon, and a newcomer to the Tommies, Lyle Morrison. Gene Skaggs and Bill Fests are candidates for the job of re­ ceiving.

The Aquinas basketball team, who were awarded the big "A" are: left to right, front row, Dick Gazella, Bob Ellis, Danny Schmidt, Jim Laidlaw; back row, Bob McNamaghey (mgr.), Jack Westerman, Bill Skaggs, Bob Wolf, Rex O'Connor. Danny Schmidt and Joe Szalkowski (absent from picture) were elected co-captains, and Danny

Although the Aquinas basketball team failed to improve upon last season's record, the work of individ­ uals was invariably much more­ outstanding. No exception to this rule is the case of Belding, it would logically fol­ low that he should live there, but he has informed us that they in­ tended to make their home in the village. We just can't under­ stand it!

Students interested in join­ ing the Aquinas golf team are asked to sign up with either Father Fay or Coach Engemann. Anyone interested in play­ ing on the Aquinas Tennis team may sign up with either Dr. Johnston or Coach Nagle before April 1.

Fighting Tommies Receive Awards

Members of the 47-48 Aquinas Basketball team who were awarded the big "A" are: left to right, front row, Dick Gazella, Bob Ellis, Danny Schmidt, Jim Laidlaw; back row, Bob McNamaghey (mgr.), Jack Westerman, Bill Skaggs, Bob Wolf, Rex O'Connor.

The Aquinas Basket­ ball season opened Nov. 24 in a thrilling contest that left the Tommies only six points short of a victory, as they fell be­ fore Muskegon J. C., 46-45.

The next week saw the Mar­ ron and Grey badly battered by Olivet and Calvin by scores of 79-21 and 74-25, respectively. Then Ferris ventured to G. H. and went home bagging a two­ point victory, as they edged the Tommies, 36-31.

Aquinas took to the road in their next encounter, but dropped the season's fifth straight game to Hillsdale, 56-42. Just prior to the Christmas holidays, the squad was badly troubled by an invasion of Adrian quasi, 67-44.

In their first game of the new year, the Tommies lost out in an overtime period to Hillsdale, 53- 45. Next boys visited Muskegon­ and were handed their eighth defeat, 60-39. A week later, Aquinas invaded Orchard Lake. St. Mary's forged ahead at the last minute to defeat them 53-44. Chary college, of Ypsi­ tang, outscored the Tommies 41- 36 in the worst showing of the season for the Maroon and Grey.

Cleary college their was in­ formed that the Tommies had about a month left for baseball practice, Wednesday, April 18.

The Adrian contest, 76-52, closed the season and brought Aquinas its third straight victory.

The Tommies' record is poor, but the team is playing well. The team put up a courageous bat­ tle in every game, and so far no one has complained of the worth of his Student Activity Card.