During the month of November we, as members of the Mystical Body, are urged to pray for the souls in Purgatory—the Church Suffering. A soul which leaves this life having incurred no further guilt, but yet not fully purified from their stains, goes to Purgatory. The Church prays for all in its deficiency according to the judgment of God. It is up to us to get these souls out of Purgatory as quickly as possible, for they are truly suffering and can do nothing for themselves.

Here is an easy way: First, by attending Mass and Holy Communion as regularly as possible. Second, we can help the Poor Souls by our prayers and especially through saying the rosary of our Blessed Mother. We can also do something to avert serious trouble, so why not pray for those faithful souls who need our help.

The little things we do in honor of God are very pleasing to Him; hence let us offer up to Him all our good works, words, and actions for the sake of the Poor Souls, especially during this month.

We should learn to love the Poor Souls and pity them in their suffering, for one day, through the mercy of God, our souls may be in Purgatory and we will suffer in their place. We must realize that God loves the Poor Souls more than we do; He sent His only Son, Jesus, to be crucified for our sins. May we never forget that God's love for us is infinite. He has a special love for the Poorest Souls and has mercy on us when we are in need. He will wash away our sins and make us pure.

The annual Aquinas Retreat was held on Oct. 24, 25 and 26. Fathers Ditto and Nealy proved to be most capable, understanding, and engaging retreatmasters. As a result of their efforts many of the major questions that had long been harboring in the minds of the students were set to rest.

The fact that attendance was good, (relief in minutes—just 59c) and nagging headaches. (They were right, by now my head was reeling.) My best friends didn't seem so friendly anymore. My voice was that of a 10-year-old girl. I was tired and confused. But still I continued to have hope; I was not ready to give up.

The first meeting of the Student Senate was held on Nov. 2. The results were indeed very interesting. As far as student elections, the nature and advertising of some of the recent elections cannot be trusted. It is because of actual disinterest. But now that the political football has been played, the leaders have become stronger and well the Student Senate Constitution serves our elected officers.

The opinion of the Student Senate was informed because of the lack of a quorum. However, these members present composed the quorum and met as a council as last year's Senate. For every set of less than five members, three clubs which sent delegates to the Senate were officially recognized. Nothing can be done about the past, but the present system of club recognition might be improved.

The present delegation is quite large in proportion to the total enrollment. While it is true that a large delegation involves complete representation, the Senate body contains too many purely nominal delegates.

The average person at Aquinas cannot possibly understand the general busi­ness as over student elections. The nature and advertising of some of the recent elections cannot be trusted. “Aquinas Way” to Be Theme for ’57 Thomist

There will be some changes made in the 1956, Jeanne Weyk, Patricia started on the Aquinas yearbook project which will come off the press in May. During the past years the Thomist has been maroon and gray or maroon and white but this year will be navy blue and light gray. The book is getting thicker, too, about 90 pages more than last year. The Thomist theme will be the “Aquinas Way,” portraying student life at Aquinas.

Planning the Thomist this year are editor-in-chief, Nancy Feltz, Mary Anne, and Margaret Harvey, Jr., senior from Detroit. Other editors are literary, Mary Rita Tomaszek, Mary O’Byrne, John Burns, Robert Kroc, John Doran, Mary Schwarz, John Automation, Gretchen Schwartz, Lynn Romsey, and Gail Peterson.

A biology major and English minor, Mary White, who will be graduated. She had plenty of experience dealing with children as she has been in the class of 75 right from the start. She graduated from Creston High in 1953 with honors and maintained her record here as a first honor student. This year she was elected vice president of the senior class.

Known as “Curly” around the biology lab, Mary slightly resents the fact that she is singled out as being the perfect example for the straight hair set.

Mike recently took a part-time job to fill in the leisure hours he used to spend sleeping every afternoon. A graduate of Cathedral Central, he enjoys sailing, football, and swimming.

Mike would deviate from the popular theme of “Wife, Woman, and Song” by quoting “Bear, Liz, and Joan” (except hillocky and Elvis Presley).

Pleas Fremds For Rosary

“The Blessed Mother has often recommended that we pray the rosary daily. Her strongest appeal was during the May crowning, when F. C., O.P., assistant professor of theology and philosophy, at the annual rosary project on the campus Oct. 10.

Father Lehner showed how the virtues of womenhood were especially exemplified in three mysteries of the rosary: the nativity, the finding of the child Jesus and the crucifixion.

Students and faculty, clad in cap and gown, marched in procession around the campus singing hymns and reciting the rosary.

Following the mass, students continued the celebration of benediction and the singing of the Ave Maria by the choir.

Optimism reigned in the Tommy arena as the Aquinas basketball team opened the season against Holy Cross in front of the Catholic Central gymnasium, Oct. 15.

Led by seven vets and a vintage of freshmen, the squad showed quality and promise. The Aquinas squad will be built around the returning interscholastic Lettermen Gene Sova and Roy Johnson. Pete Bishop, 5'9" speedster from Saginaw, cracked an ankle bone and was lost for the semester.

Coach Joe Baker will be counting on his fresh for depth and bench strength. Dick Kleff, 6'9" center from Grand Rapids C.C. has talent, and will be at the bank and waiting for a starting berth. Dick Webber, 6'7" forward from Lansing Recreational; Harry Singleton, 6'5" Wayland guard; and Tom Mayan, 6'3" Marcellus Heart center, should see action.

Ski Club Plans Winter Activities

With the coming of Winter the Aquinas Ski Club is looking forward to social and athletic activities to be expected for the coming ski season. The ski club members will choose October 29 to represent the ski clubs of Saginaw, and would like to emphasize the need for these organizations in our community; the need for the ski clubs to follow a definite plan in their program and meeting schedule. The program and meetings should be planned and started before October 29.

The ski club also agreed to enter the collegiate ski meet at Boyne Mountain, October 29, and to be ready to represent Aquinas at the intercollegiate ski meets at Boyne Mountain. Last year Aquinas finished 2nd in the intercollegiate ski meets at Boyne Mountain. The ski club needs a definite plan for its program and meetings in order to get the most out of the ski season.

Bowling Club Forms

Two Active Leagues

Aquinas bowling club elected officers for the coming season, October 10. Those elected were: president, Gary West, Grand Rapids senior; secretary, Robert Bonczyk, Grand Rapids junior; treasurer, Marilyn Penno, Grand Rapids sophomore; members, David Gurnee, Grand Rapids junior; Richard Grow, Grand Rapids junior; Jim Vogl, West and Robert Bonczyk, Rolland Royce, Grand Rapids senior; and Steve Fornblad, Grand Rapids senior. The club consists of approximately 50 members and has two league bowling at the Northfield Lanes. One division bowling on Monday, the other on Thursday, from 3:30 until 5:30. Each league has ten teams competing, with two girls and two boys on each team.

In the qualifying rounds Ken West and Robert Bonczyk royed the highest series. Actual league play started on January 23.

Sophomore class presented a successful dance at the armory Oct. 5. James Vogl, Leaning, projected as M.C. Among the acts he introduced was a skit by the girls from Thad- den High School; Three Denizens from Witten- bachen, Judy Grombke and Gret- chen Schwarz.

Not to be outdone, the boys from Harper Hall, Richard Foltz, Ted Dolan, from the training depart- ment of Michigan Credit Union and Pat Sovacomments. He seldom says a word during practice sessions but his action this year, at least to his satis- faction and frac- tioned his foot.

Pete Bishop, 5'9" point guard from Saginaw, Mary, where he played varsity basketball for two years. Upon his graduation from pottery at St. Joseph's college.

After a season of duty in the Navy, hosted by Aquinas, where he has been playing the Tiger for the last two years. After spending the Christmas holiday with his old Aquinas, Pete hopes to teach and coach. He is a major history and physical education major.

Gene Sova

"What a fish," is the expression that Aquinas freshmen Pete Bishop will be using in the coming season to describe those individuals who will be his teammates. Bishop has played basketball at St. John's High School in Essexville. This gives Gene more ba- lances in perfecting his shot. He is majoring in accounting major and provides for his family on three by working part time at the Hoover Motor Freight Company while attending school.

All three players look optimistically toward the coming season and think that the won and lost record will be one of the best ever.

Five Aquinas Partake In Great Lakes

Five Aquinas students took part in a conference on prejudice at St. Mary's lake, Oct. 28-29. The members were sponsors for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Aquinas delegates were Dorothy Smoak, senior from Kalamazoo; Jud- ith Baber, junior from Kalamazoo, Margaret Kozlowski and Adeline Dunn, seniors from Grand Rapids; and Anna Kahn, sophomore, freshmen from Baghdad.

Blessing and distribution of roses marked the formal opening of the Aquinas College chapter of the Third Order of St. Francis on Monday night. A total of more than 69 members were present.

Choral recitation of Compilae, a sermon by the Rev. John Dona- hue, O.P., and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament completed the services. A social gathering follow- ed in the men's lounge.

"Father Donahue, director of the chapter, will be happy to discuss the origin, purpose, and benefits of the Third Order with anyone desiring information.

The Third Order is an organization of the faithful who are seek- ing to lead holy Christian lives un- der the direction of the Dominican Fathers.

Monthly meetings are scheduled for the first Sunday of each month. In addition there will be meetings on the third and fourth Tuesdays of each month for instruction on the rules and customs of the Third Order. All meetings begin at 7:30 p.m.

Father Donahue announces that plans are being made for a month- ly newsletter, "The Aquinian," to be sent to graduates.

"(Continued from p. 2)" a thousand trained and semi-trained voices, accompanied by thirty massed drummers. Our hero (excuse me, the pro- tagonist) is a spectator at the lastInfant male in the Middle Ages was often held on his parents' lap, creating an intimate and personal bond. These early caregivers played a crucial role in the child's development, providing emotional support and fostering a secure attachment. As the child grew, they continued to instill important values and teach practical skills, preparing them for independence and future challenges. In modern society, the role of caregivers has evolved, embracing diverse forms of adoptive parents, foster parents, and mentors. Despite the changes, the core principle remains the same: the need for consistent and nurturing support to ensure the child's healthy growth and development. Caregivers today still face numerous challenges, from financial struggles to cultural misunderstandings, but they remain steadfast in their commitment to provide the best possible care and guidance for each child. Let us join forces to support and celebrate the vital contributions of caregivers everywhere."
