Eighteen Roads Lead To Guatemalan Summer

Aquisan OPLA summer program is directed in Guatemala Central America, with eighteen students from this summer's program, now in its second year. It is anticipated that the group will be divided into 2 subgroups, the largest of which will go to Quiche Highlands, which is about 70 miles from Guatemala City. This group will stay at Molino San Pedro (Mill of St. Peter) on the Panama-American highway.

The students in this larger group will work in cooperation with the Papal Volunteers who are already at Quiche Highlands, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Selker of St. Jude's parish, Give Raps, and Mr. Herman Plante of St. Thomas' parish and four female employees of Aquinas. Mr. and Mrs. Selker will serve as house mother and father for this group.

Some of the students will work in the medical field, which will be at San Pedro. The male participants in the program will work on construction projects such as the construction of school building planned because of the clinic's inadequacy. Those men with sufficient background in agriculture will help in the fields. The girls will work in the domestic arts such as cooking and sewing with the Fe­idian women in order to improve diets and to raise the standard of living.

College Mourns Loss

Of Raymond F. Knape

Mr. Raymond Knape, chairman of the Lay Board of Trustees, died on Dec. 22. Mr. Knape was co-author of the 1964 Year Program in 1962. In the previous year, it was used in cooperation with the college, he was given an honorary degree in 1962.

His sister, Arthur Woodhouse, former vice-chairman of the Board, said Msgr. A. F. Bukowski presided at the funeral service.

Beginning next September, President Knape brought sorrow to all at the College as he gained many services to the College. Through his years of association with Aquinas College, he gained many friends for it and gave unstintingly of his time, talent, and love to the institution he loved so deeply," said Magr. A. F. Bukowski, president.

The play will be performed at the college's theater, the College Auditorium, and will be directed by Mr. Doug Baur. The cast will consist of both alumni and current students.

The play is a production of the college's drama department and is sponsored by the Aquisan Club, a student organization that supports the arts at Aquinas College.

A Tautly dramatic scene is enacted during rehearsal of "Between Two Thieves" by Tim Littell, Zo Elegantur, Diane Deane, and Fred Wachh.

The atmosphere was tense and exciting throughout the corner of one of Aquinas’s most important events in its history—a historic one—Homecoming musi­ nane the subject of this interro­ middle of things where she always lived. The Detroit Lions were skiing at about 5:30, and everyone had an opportunity to forget the "Beatle" that went on at 8:00. The Beatles crawled out of their tracks early the next morning, ready to conquer Boyne Mountain. The slopes at Boyne were either very steep or very gentle, but no one really seemed to care.

The Homecoming festivities were truly a great success and the best of the season so far. The Tommies' defense was a major factor in stopping the Northwestern Michigan Wildcats by a score of 95-94. It was an uphill battle for the Aquinas five players. However the Aquinas five players made at that time. Full statistics on the games sponsored by G.R. JayCees.

Lions, Beatles Highlight Ski Trip

A few weeks ago a group of Aquinas College students spent a long weekend skiing on the snowy slopes around Harbour Springs. The excursion began in the wee hours of a sunny Saturday morning. The first stop was Nub's Nob. Although the skiing was not very good, Nub's Nob proved exciting. The Detroit Lions were skiing there the same day. In the evening everyone had an opportunity to meet and talk with the Lions. This informal "get-together" with the players had to be one of the highlights of the entire trip.

The next day was filled with skiing at the highlands. A snowfall the night before brought ideal skiing conditions which all were able to take advantage for the highlands had a tremendous variety of slopes. In the evening the weary skiers everyone drove to Parrill's in Rogers City for a dinner dance. All eagerly went back to the Highlands the following day to conquer the slope that "rattled their cages" the day before. After dinner the skiers gathered at Basil's Stein House. Who will ever forget the "Beatle" that went on at 8:00. The Beatles crawled out of their tracks early the next morning, ready to conquer Boyne Mountain. The slopes at Boyne were either very steep or very gentle, but no one really seemed to care.

The time has come for all local students to come to the aid of the Student Steering Committee for New Aquinas Songs. Sister Kevin and her student associates are in dire need of a new school song—infact, they need two songs, a fight song and an alma mater song.

All interested Aquinites—here's your chance. Submit either words or music or both before Feb. 19 in the Information Office. Winners will be announced during the Carousel of the Arts and awards will be made at that time.
