In the past three-five years Monsignor Bukowski has witnessed the growth and development of a small Catholic junior college into a four-year coeducational institution. He has been an active advocate of inter-racial justice, he has served on various academic committees with which he has been affiliated including the National Federation of Catholic College Students, the Association of Independent Colleges and Institutes of Higher Education Committee of the National Student Association, the Catholic Student Guild and in 1967 it became even more powerful as the Student Commission came into being.

F rom 1940-1942 Aquinas included a Labor School which was key to benefit Union people. Under the sponsorship of Monsignor Bukowski the Debate Team of 1941-42 gained wide recognition by enrolling the statement that "The Federal Government Should Regulate by Law All Labor Unions in the United States."

Currently, Monsignor heads the ten-year development program of the college from 1963-1973 and worked in close conjunction on Project 70 as well as engaging in promotion of the new field house and future library.

For the last two years President Bukowski has held informal chats with interested students in an effort to further student opinion concerning the functioning of the college and to create better, more intense student relationships.

Monsignor Bukowski is quick to admit that he will miss most “the wonderful people who comprised the Aquinas family, Faculty, administration, and student body. But he also a little more hesitantly to a certain extent. He will miss the view from the third floor of Albertus Hall looking over the duck pond.

Edwin Booth Theater Offers Modern Plays

Last year the Grand Rapids community saw the beginnings of an independent student theater in the turkey barn on 28th Street, called the Edwin Booth Experimental Workshop Theater. It has played an important part in the cultural activity of a number of people in the Calvin Colleage community and a limited number of people within the community. The Booth presented such productions as Sam Spiegel's No Exit, Albee's Zoo Story, Aquinas college production of Dylan Thomas' Under Milkwood, and the University of Michigan Players in a program of one act plays that were presented: Gheiderode's The Blind Men and Markovitch. It Should Happen to a Dog.

Students and the general community are invited to attend for an evening of theater and the informal coffee hour following the performances. The members of the theater group hope that the theater will not be restricted to just Calvin students, but anyone interested in the various aspects of the theater arts are welcome to become involved in this workshop.

The renovated Barn is located on 30th Street, about 3 miles east of the East Tennis, and about 1 mile east of the intersection of 28th Street and the expressway. For more information call 676-5891 or 454-7571.

DON'T LOOK NOW...

But you may be about to blow your life

A astonishing number of people make a stupid and tragic mistake. To put it simply, they jump into careers without really looking. The result—a dreary life of frustration and anger.

Can this happen to you? Could you be, unless you answer questions like these to your own satisfaction, before you make your move. Are you really a Chief...or an Indian?

Do you belong in a big organization...or a small one? Do you belong by yourself?

Can you really stand pressure?

There are a great many serious questions you must ask—and answer—about a career. But the most critical are the ones you ask yourself about. Unless you can answer them honestly, it makes little sense to ask, for example, "What's it really like to be an investment banker?"

Careers Today can tell you what it's like to be an investment banker. More important, this meaningful new magazine can help you decide whether becoming an investment banker is even a sensible option for you in the first place.

It's a magazine about careers that start not with jobs, but with people. And it's dedicated to the proposition that you do your own thing...and that if you don't, you run the grave risk of blowing your life.

Careers Today is relevant. For people who are seeking, from people who have discovered how to do their own thing.

Tommies Back on Track, Up Record To 7-6

Tournament Play
Aquinas dropped the first game of the Tournament City Classic to Spring Arbor 92-86 but in the consolation game a six game winning streak began as Brzezinski’s squad put it together for the first time and took home a 105-87 victory. Revenge on Spring Arbor was next as Dave Page came alive in the scoring column and Aquinas outdistanced the Cougars 112-92.

Kalamazoo was the next victim of the hot-handed Tommies as Tom Van Portfleet hit ten straight shots in the first half and Kanoz fell 81-77.

The first Aquinas Christmas tournament was a success for the home team, Purdue-Calumet Branch, as it produced a well-played 101-81 victory over Purdue in the opening game. Freshmen center Mark Simons provided the excitement in the championship game when he sank an 18 foot jump shot at the buzzer to give the Tom’s a 87-81 victory over a strong Rose Polytechnic Institute club.

Fort Wayne, Indiana, was the next stop for the Aquinas express and despite a small playing floor which hampered the Tom’s effectiveness they pulled out a 97-86 decision over St. Francis College.

As quickly as it had started the streak ended when Dave Page, the team’s leading scorer, and starting guard Bob Pratt, were forced to sit out the Hilldale game with a serious case of the flu and a back ankle respectively. With those two out the Tommies displayed a lot of fight but couldn’t hold on and lost to 94-90 decision to the Chargers.

Oakland University then took advantage of the injured Tommies as they won an 83-78 victory. The Tommies just couldn’t get it untracked and were outrebounded, a category that has been the key to Aquinas success so far this season. When the Tommies have attacked the boards they have won; when they haven’t they’ve lost.

Forward Dave Page has led Aquinas scoring with a 20 point average and Pat Ryan has added 15 points a game as well as grabbing 15 rebounds per game. Dennis Zawsky has come on strong of late and when this front line can score and rebound as they can, Aquinas will win.

Skiing News
The group departed on January 6 for the slopes at least once. Conditions were rated as perfect with sunny blue skies and snow, snow, snow! Around 4:00 p.m., the slopes started to empty as dusk enveloped the mountain. The scene then shifted to “apres-ski” or the nightlife of Quebec.

The skies started early with a 25 mile bus ride to Mont St. Anne where almost everyone challenged the slopes at least once. Conditions were rated as perfect with sunny blue skies and snow, snow! Around 4:00 p.m., the slopes started to empty as dusk enveloped the mountain. The scene then shifted to "apres-ski" or the nightlife of Quebec.

The law of averages caught up with the group when Joe Kiel fractured his ankle and had to be flown back to Grand Rapids early in the week. The rest of the week flew too quickly and on January 13th it was time to be Aquinas bound, talking glibly about next year. Even loan is game for another try.
