The board's meetings usually begin at 1:15 on Friday afternoons. The meetings last from one hour to an hour and forty-five minutes, according to Remington. Blaquiere leaves around 2:30 p.m. "It's not that critical for her to be there," said Remington, because four voting members provide a quorum. Without one voting member, regardless of who he/she represents, that can still be achieved. Dr. Hruby said that he realized Blaquiere had to leave early, but he did not realize that midnight was coming. "I suspect that the Community Senate, or some other person should recommend... or she should be replaced or an additional student be appointed," he said.

---

Forum Lacks Students

by KATHY BROWN

Student communication with faculty and administrators has been cited as one problem at Aquinas. The first of a series of forums designed by the Task Force on the Quality of Student Life to alleviate this problem took place on Friday, September 22.

Present were James Schulz, dean for student development acting as representative of the administration, and three SUNRISE reporters. Despite four days of notices published in the today bulletin, there was no student body representation.

When asked how he felt "when no one showed up," Schulz said that he expected that it might happen.

These sessions are not lectures but rather discussion meetings. According to Schulz they are, "for anybody who wants to come in and talk about anything."

The sessions are to be held on the third Friday of every month in the afternoon. Schulz and Barb Hansen, academic vice president will be alternating months as representatives of administration and faculty respectively.

Because of midterm break the October meeting will be held on the 13th instead of the 20th. Hansen will be present at this meeting to answer questions and to listen to complaints and suggestions.

The forum will be held from 1:00-2:30 in AB 152. In addition to the establishment of these meetings, the Task Force also initiated other changes to improve life at Aquinas. Among these changes are: the purchase of vans for use by college groups, the switch to good dreams, the creation of a new athletic field, the reinstatement of a cheerleading squad and a pep club, and efforts towards planning a yearbook.

Changes and improvements can only be made if the students are willing to make their decisions known. The forum sessions are the place to be heard.

---

Eastown: a Success Model

by JIM WYSoczynski

To nearly 8,000 people who live there, the name Eastown represents more than just a place to carouse on Friday and Saturday night.

Once epitomized by burned-out, abandoned and rat-infested houses, folding businesses and an apparent invasion of for sale signs, the recently refurbished square mile of urban community has become, according to some of its remodelers, a model for other localities throughout the United States.

Such is the saga of a neighborhood success story and the subject of a forthcoming book. Entitled "EASTOWN," the book will be the result of a $57,000 grant provided by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, and collaboration of authors Linda Easley, Thomas Edison, and Michael Williams. Easley, Edison, and Williams, faculty members at Aquinas College, helped to reconstruct the vestiges of what was once referred to as the East End.

Because of their concern for the project, all three accepted the challenge of tracing the background and development of the project from its grassroots to its current revamped state. Sr. Mary James Rau is credited also with having edited the manuscript.

In hopes that it might serve as insight and encouragement to other communities sharing similar concerns, approximately 18,000 to 25,000 copies of the book, and Edison, will be published and distributed by the Kellogg Foundation. It will be sent to administrative heads of American colleges and universities, urban churches and hospitals, government officials, foundations and other organizations.
Editorial Viewpoint

Apparenty Aquinas, using its status as a private institution, has chosen to place itself above public law concerning open board and committee meetings. I speak of two instances with two different SUNRISE reporters being denied entrance to two different All-College Traffic and Safety Board meetings.

The meeting of 1976 requires that, “all meetings of a public body be open.”

Being a private institution, however, excludes Aquinas from this act. On the other hand, in the spirit of fairness and openness it would seem that the meetings would be open, especially this particular committee in light of the controversy surrounding the parking issue.

Dr. Roger Remington, chairman of the board, feels he is being “bugged” by my reporters. Harassment, however, is the furthest thing from my mind, and I only want to find out first hand what decisions are being made and how they are making the decisions.

I will continue to send a reporter out to any meeting of significance to the Aquinas community to find out what the board is doing, if anything. Committees and boards have a bad habit of bending the rules if there isn’t some sort of check applied to them. This is why it’s important that SUNRISE be there.

Sending a reporter to a meeting is nothing exclusive to the traffic board. I try to get a reporter to all the meetings at Aquinas. It’s the only way to get the “bottom line” of what really happened at the meetings.

Remington justifies his resistance by saying personalities are exposed in the meetings and the SUNRISE should not hear such discussion. How then is anyone to know that “fair and equitable” treatment is being given to these personalities, as specified in the first point of purpose of the traffic board.

The only regular student on the board is Julie Blaisiequr, and she has not gone to leave for 15 minutes into the meeting. This is a very unfortunate situation for the students as they are only partially represented. In the light of this I strongly urge Blaisiequr to resign her position to someone who can devote more time to the board.

I hope this week’s meeting to discuss the operation of the board is conducive because the traffic situation couldn’t be much worse.

Joseph T. Steve
Editor-in-Chief

SUNRISE, Aquinas College Student Press
October 4, 1978

Letters

Outdoor Recreation

Editor.

This fall, another back-packing trip to the Smokey Mountains of Tennessee is in the making—maybe.

In past years, the week-end Fall and Spring breaks have been prime times for some of the best Outdoor Recreation trips of the year. The resignation of the former Outdoor Recreation chairman and the delay in appointing new chairmen, at present there is no one to organize the trip.

It’s makes student interest! If you’d like to spend Fall break in the Smokey Mtns. (or somewhere else if you know of a better area), sign up in the Student Activities Office today.

Get a group together to start organizing things and keep Outdoor Recreation alive.

Pep Club

Editor.

Yes Folks! It’s coming at you, right here at old AQU. All the enthusiasm and spirit is trying to revive itself with a new Pep Club.

Some people may still hold apathetic feelings and say, “It’s just a fad and it won’t work!” Ha! Ha!—Not so! There has been true interest and a lot of people have gotten involved.

The reasoning behind starting the club was to instill spirit back into the people who had lost it, to help support our talented athletes and to get people involved with the school in a different way.

A few meetings have been held already and the next meeting is held on Wednesday, October 4.

The items discussed at the previous pep club meeting (the ‘I’m a Pep' at AQU) getting a Pep band together and the possibility of a pep rally plus a talent show to be held in November.

Within the near future the goal of the club is to become an established organization through the Senate. The co-chairs for this fire-up organization will be Diane Gousset and Joyce Cooklin.

Your support is still needed, faculty and students alike—to be a Pep-er to be Hot Stuff. Wouldn’t you rather be a Pep-er too?

Audrey B. Selinsky

Out in the NOBERTS FIELD
(With apologies to Joyce Kilmer)

In Nobert’s field
The mudholes grow
Beneath the cars
Parked row on row.

Come winter, we’ll
Await a tow
In Nobert’s field
Parked high with snow.

We paid ten bucks
For a parking ticket
We’d like to tell them
To go and—!

Concerned boarded worker
In L.E.C., who wishes to Remain anonymous.

We need your help!

Kris Wolenski
Former Outdoor Recreation Chairwoman

Eastown continued from page 1

involves urban concern.

Publication is planned for the first part of October. The book consists of between 50 and 100 pages, including at least 25 photographs.

The Kellogg Foundation, according to Sr. Jean Paul Tilman, geography department chairman, was so impressed with the results of the 1974 Eastown project, which supported with $129,836, that they decided to finance the book in conjunction with a proposal for research and consulting service. Both programs would be staffed by Dr. Norm Brickel, college president, who is to be announced, “only if the cost of Kellogg’s cereal somehow go up.”

Tilman continued, “If we get the book up, he will be available to the public. The exact number, however, has yet to be announced. Nonetheless, when asked if a fee would be request-ed, Williams replied, “only if the cost of Kellogg’s cereal somehow go up.”

To go and—!

Concerned boarded worker
In L.E.C., who wishes to Remain anonymous.

We need your help!

Kris Wolenski
Former Outdoor Recreation Chairwoman

Pep Club

Editor.

Yes Folks! It’s coming at you, right here at old AQU. All the enthusiasm and spirit is trying to revive itself with a new Pep Club.

Some people may still hold apathetic feelings and say, “It’s just a fad and it won’t work!” Ha! Ha!—Not so! There has been true interest in this club by the students.

The initial move to get this project started was by a senior Audrey Selinsky with the help of Karen Stefanick and Sue Haas.

The reasoning behind starting the club was to instill spirit back into the people who had lost it, to help support our talented athletes and to get people involved with the school in a different way.

A few meetings have been held already and the next meeting is held on Wednesday, October 4.

The items discussed at the previous pep club meeting (the ‘I’m a Pep' at AQU) getting a Pep band together and the possibility of a pep rally plus a talent show to be held in November.

Within the near future the goal of the club is to become an established organization through the Senate. The co-chairs for this fire-up organization will be Diane Gousset and Joyce Cooklin.

Your support is still needed, faculty and students alike—to be a Pep-er to be Hot Stuff. Wouldn’t you rather be a Pep-er too?
Two extraordinary women who have witnessed drastic changes in lifestyles are coming to share their knowledge with the Aquinas community this month. The two talented authoresses who will be coming to us from foreign countries, Lady Anita Leslie of Galway, Ireland is making her appearance through the Danforth Lecture Series. Rosemary Haughton of Lothlorien, Scotland will speak at Aquinas through two separate lecture series.

AUTHORESSES TO SHARE INTEREST

by KATHY BROWN

Even With Increase
Lost Students Traced

by MAUREEN GEGLIO

Student Tutors Are Needed

by THERESA BUSH

Computer Assists Students

by BRIAN PLACHTA

Tutors such as Steve Paulus are scarce this because the demand for the tutoring service is growing. He is helping Mike Onderko.

Contact Lens Wearers

by MAUREEN GEGLIO

AUTHORESSES TO SHARE INTEREST

by KATHY BROWN

Even With Increase
Lost Students Traced

by MAUREEN GEGLIO

Student Tutors Are Needed

by THERESA BUSH

Computer Assists Students

by BRIAN PLACHTA

Tutors such as Steve Paulus are scarce this because the demand for the tutoring service is growing. He is helping Mike Onderko.
Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.

Some Get a Break

This semester 41 part-time students received a break on tuition at Aquinas. But, they had to be of "special" student status to get it.

To fit into this category a person must not qualify for continuing education status, and must agree to enroll for six credit hours or less. "Special" status allows students to pay the current continuing education rate, $68 per semester hour, but limits credit per semester to 6 hours. Part-time students taking between 7 and 11 hours per semester pay $108 for each credit hour.

According to Mike Keller, director of academic advising, counseling, and orientation, this program is especially useful to students working full-time.

Some Kendall School of Design students who wish to take a few Aquinas courses have also expressed interest in the program.

To apply for next semester, a student must complete all regular admissions applications and be accepted by the college.

Students of "special" status are eligible for financial aid if they take 6 credit hours, the minimum needed to qualify for aid.
Burton Conquers ‘Fairways’ in Inaugural Open

The First Annual Aquinas Frisbee Golf Tournament, which was held Sept. 29-30, is now history.

After two days and 36 holes of frisbees hitting flag poles, trees and signs, Aquinas can crown its first frisbee golf champion.

Mike Burton survived the two day competition by shoot­ing (more like throwing) a 35 under par 111 to take home the first place trophy. Besides receiving an individual trophy, Burton will have his name engraved on the permanent trophy at Aquinas.

Jamie Mitchell, who had a hole-in-one the first day, was runner-up with a 112. Other top finishers included: Kewin Kelley—114, Gary Gilopie—121, Gary Vachon—122, and Mark Ewing—123.

The tournament was held on Aquinas’ own 18-hole frisbee golf course. The par 73 course starts in front of the Wege Center, continues around the Administration building, past the convent and Regina Hall, around the Education building, through the softball diamond, past Albertus Hall and back again to Wege Center.

The trees were identified by a white line and a number, while the holes were designated by a white circle around either a tree, post or sign.

The course was made up of par three’s, par four’s, and par five’s and the players were given scorecards and course direction sheets so they knew where to go.

The 22 participants went out in two-somes covering the course in about an hour.

Jamie Mitchell, who had a hole-in-one the first day, was runner-up with a 112. Other top finishers included: Kewin Kelley—114, Gary Gilopie—121, Gary Vachon—122, and Mark Ewing—123. The Second Annual Aquinas Frisbee Golf Tournament, which was held Sept. 29-30, is now history.

After two days and 36 holes of frisbees hitting flag poles, trees and signs, Aquinas can crown its first frisbee golf champion.

Mike Burton survived the two day competition by shoot­ing (more like throwing) a 35 under par 111 to take home the first place trophy. Besides receiving an individual trophy, Burton will have his name engraved on the permanent trophy at Aquinas.

Jamie Mitchell, who had a hole-in-one the first day, was runner-up with a 112. Other top finishers included: Kewin Kelley—114, Gary Gilopie—121, Gary Vachon—122, and Mark Ewing—123.

The tournament was held on Aquinas’ own 18-hole frisbee golf course. The par 73 course starts in front of the Wege Center, continues around the Administration building, past the convent and Regina Hall, around the Education building, through the softball diamond, past Albertus Hall and back again to Wege Center.

The trees were identified by a white line and a number, while the holes were designated by a white circle around either a tree, post or sign.

The course was made up of par three’s, par four’s, and par five’s and the players were given scorecards and course direction sheets so they knew where to go.

The 22 participants went out in two-somes covering the course in about an hour.

Celebrate the Harvest

by PATRICE MILLER

A special Harvest Mass has been planned for Sunday, Oct. 8 at 12:15 p.m.

The Harvest Mass, which has been planned with a great deal of student input, will be a celebration of praise and gratitude for this season of harvest time. It is a time to reflect not only on the food provided for us, but also on all the diverse gifts given to us by the Lord of the Harvest.

The entire college community, family, and friends are invited to help celebrate this special liturgy.

The Mass will be held in the courtyard of the Pastoral Center. In case of extremely cold weather or rain, the change in the location of the ceremony will be announced.

Dino Signore, co-director of student activities, is the person in charge for getting this first tournament going. The Stroh’s Company co-sponsored the tournament by contributing beer, frisbees, trophies, and medals.

“I think frisbee golf is an upcoming sport and I would say this first tournament was a success,” stated Signore.

Frisbee golf is a combination of both golf and frisbee. You can get penalized for landing in the woods and water, or hitting an unsuspecting person.

From the first tee to the 18th hole, the participants had a true test of their frisbee golf skills.

It is anything but utter boredom; there seems to be constant excitement radiating from the room of the floor keeper.

Nightly conferences on subjects needed will be announced. The First Annual Aquinas Frisbee Golf Tournament, which was held Sept. 29-30, is now history.

After two days and 36 holes of frisbees hitting flag poles, trees and signs, Aquinas can crown its first frisbee golf champion.

Mike Burton survived the two day competition by shoot­ing (more like throwing) a 35 under par 111 to take home the first place trophy. Besides receiving an individual trophy, Burton will have his name engraved on the permanent trophy at Aquinas.

Jamie Mitchell, who had a hole-in-one the first day, was runner-up with a 112. Other top finishers included: Kewin Kelley—114, Gary Gilopie—121, Gary Vachon—122, and Mark Ewing—123.

The tournament was held on Aquinas’ own 18-hole frisbee golf course. The par 73 course starts in front of the Wege Center, continues around the Administration building, past the convent and Regina Hall, around the Education building, through the softball diamond, past Albertus Hall and back again to Wege Center.

The trees were identified by a white line and a number, while the holes were designated by a white circle around either a tree, post or sign.

The course was made up of par three’s, par four’s, and par five’s and the players were given scorecards and course direction sheets so they knew where to go.

The 22 participants went out in two-somes covering the course in about an hour.
Cross-Country Summary
by SCOTT FLEGAL
Hope Invitational Holland, Mich. September 19

Aquinas, led by Eric Patterson’s seventh place time of 27:05, finished third out of ten teams in the Hope Invitational. Mike Woodbeck and Jeff "IN" HAIRCUTTING
Bill & Suzie Whitecraft
1501 Wealthy SE-Eastown
Phone 787-62
Tues.-Sat. 10 a.m.-8 p.m.

Brazier finished closely behind Patterson with times of 27:23 and 27:25. Randy Parrish and Stan Sidor took 16th and 17th places on the 5,000 meter course with times of 28:00 and 28:01 respectively.

Dave Foster raised a few eyebrows by winning the individual race with a time of 27:37. Teammate Matt Sliva finished second with a time of 28:49.

U.S.T.F.F. Kenosha Wisconsin September 23

The Saints placed eighth in a field of 14 teams as Stan Sidor paced his teammates with a time of 26:44. South Dakota State University won the team race but Aquinas finished ahead of teams from the University of Marquette, and host town Kenosha on the five mile course.

Eric Patterson, Mike Woodbeck, and Jeff Brazier crossed the finish line with times of 27:01, 27:05, and 27:27. Randy Parrish also ran a good race, clocking a time of 27:52. Dave Foster and Gary Vachon rounded out the top seven with times of 28:07 and 28:26.

"I’m really pleased with the way they ran," stated Coach Gallagher. "This is a pretty tough course, it’s where they run the national N.A.I.A."

Ferris State September 26

John Steinberg, a Ferris State harrier, set a new course record at Aquinas with a time of 32:53. It wasn’t enough, however, as Ferris bowed to the fighting Saints, 29-26.

Eric Patterson and Stan Sidor took second and third with identical times of 33:17 on the 10,000 meter course. Jeff Brazier finished closely behind the pair with a fourth place time of 33:49.

"I think Eric, Stan, and Jeff ran exceptionally well," said Gallagher. "Foster and Woodbeck got us the rest of our points. This is the first time since 1974 that we’ve defeated Ferris State College."

Coach Gallagher was also very happy with the way the Aquinas College community showed up to support his harriers. He would like to thank everyone who attended and especially those who helped with the race itself. Everyone’s encouragement was a big help to the runners.

On Oct. 6, Aquinas will travel to Golden Dome country for the Notre Dame Invitational in South Bend. This should prove to be the toughest challenge for the team so far this year.

SAVE 5% WITH AQUINAS ID at Late Stop Party Store
1307 E. Fulton
Phone 456-1261

FREE

CATALOG of COLLEGIATE RESEARCH
Over 10,000 listings! All subjects.
Send NOW for this FREE catalog.
(offer expires Dec. 31, 1978)
Send to: COLLEGIATE RESEARCH
P.O. Box 84396, Los Angeles, CA 90073

Harriers Run Past Ferris

In the morning, canoes set off downstream for the excursion. Many stopped along the way to rest, to recover from the night before, or to bail out their tipped canoes of icy water. Everyone took time while canoeing to observe the autumn colors on the banks of the Au Sable River. Colors ranged from summer’s green to deep autumn red and mirror images on the water.

Happily exhausted after 6 hours of canoeing, the river runners headed back to campus.

Many inexperienced, canoeers, now wiser, will be better prepared for the cold nights the next trip.

The Student Activities Office is planning a canoeing trip down the Pine River the weekend of May 4-5.

The team of Dave Fosdick and Cheri Patterson take on the mighty AuSable.

Aquinas and Davenport students spent two days at the South Higgins State Park tipping canoes, each other and spirits.
Ah, the life of a sports editor. Here, enclosed in the following few lines are some of the thoughts that enter my mind about Aquinas College, sports, and other trivial matters.

How bad are the Detroit Lions? Who could have anticipated the sudden experience of our football team this season? A lot of credit must go to Coaches Bonnie Wiers, Doug Mello, and Mike Gallagher along with Athletic Director Terry Boos.

Thanks again to Ernie Mousseau for his help and attention to the intramural programs here at Aquinas.

Wouldn’t it be nice if Aquinas always stays this size so everyone can know nearly everyone else? I wish everyone would quit laughing at 39 year-old Jim Bouton, pitcher for the Atlanta Braves. He’s got guts to try a comeback like this.

A big thank you from myself to my hard-working sports personnel. Jim Elliott, Dave Huizenga, Joan Cooklin, Nancy Shirey, and Audrey Selinsky are doing a superb job.

The most miraculous feat I have ever heard of happened right here on the Aquinas College campus. Dave Knickerbocker, hurling for the Fussed Ducks, threw a 1-0 no-hit game at the Tooters on Sept. 22. No-hit games aren’t exactly rare but this is slow-pitch softball. I still don’t believe it happened. Well, move over Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan.

Where is Larry Porter? Wouldn’t it be great if the Aquinas College soccer team could play right here on campus instead of all the way out in John Ball Park. I’m sure a lot of people are interested in the team but can’t go to the games because of the distance.

With intramural football coming up get those limbs loosened up for those long, cold, games. I wonder who the new Bert Jones of Aquinas will be?

Many of you may be wondering where the title “Castle Comments” comes from—It’s using as a general term to cover editorials of this sports department. “Castle” comes from the house called “Byron Castle” which I live in.

I hate the New York Yankees. Does that make me a communist? I despise the Boston Red Sox. I love the Tigers though. (I sincerely hope no violence will come from these statements.)

Will George Blanda ever come back? What is a Less Moss? Enough thoughts, maybe you folks out there have a few of your own. If you do, feel free to call the CASTLE HOTLINE at 459-0359.

Soccer Heartaches Continue

by JIM ELLIOTT and AUDREY SELINSKY

Olivet

September 23

Even after double overtime tie-breakers, a hard-fought battle between the Saints and Olivet, ended up in a one to one tie on Sept. 23.

In the first six minutes of the game, the attack was led by Aquinas with a score shot by Ken Tolman, assisted by Stu Brothwick. The Saints controlled most of the first half until Olivet scored from a comer kick.

Leading into the second half were several fantastic saves by goalie Paul Nagy. The team worked well together on offense (it took 40 shots to their 15) as well as defense but just couldn’t score a goal to win.

The aggressive action was headed by Steve Elliott and Dave Garbarino. Bill Gray and Mauro Caporuscio. A few of the players sustain injuries but hope to be back on the field soon.

Grand Rapids Baptist September 28

A disastrous first half spelled a four to one defeat for Aquinas at the hands of Grand Rapids Baptist, Sept. 28.

Baptist struck early on a goal assisted by fullback Steve Gardner. They scored another as center half back Tom Wever slipped a pass through the Aquinas defense and assisted Walsh for his second goal. With twelve minutes remaining in the opening half, Baptist picked up its third goal as left forward Andy Sommerfield fed right forward Dave Jaspion to put Baptist ahead three to zero.

With ten minutes remaining in the first half Aquinas goalie Paul Nagy was kned in the temple, thus sideling him for the rest of the game. Junior Pete Colvin took over goaltending duties for the rest of the afternoon.

In the second half Aquinas looked much better than in the first half. The Saints started to hustle and kept Baptist fullbacks and goalie busy. Good defense and hustle was displayed by senior fullback Bill Wagner and freshmen fullback Steven Garbarino.

Garbarino and Wagner’s efforts were not enough, though. Right wing forward Brian Manning caught in an open shot by beating Colvin to the left. This put Baptist ahead four to zero.

Stu Borthwick scored the lone Aquinas goal of the after­noon on a penalty shot. The shot was set up by Baptist being charged with obstruction. A discouraged Garbarino admitted afterward, “We got caught making the same mistakes that we’ve been making in other games.” Mauro Caporuscio added, “I think we were overconfident plus our injuries to players did not help.”

Intramural Football Begins

by NANCY SHIREY

The most exciting of all intramural sports is on its way with the first intramural football game being played on Oct. 8.

If you are not a member of a team, it’s not too late to sign up. Teams can have a minimum of 12 and a maximum of 16 players.

Entry forms are available in the fieldhouse until Oct. 5.

A mandatory captains meeting will be held at 3 p.m. Oct. 6 in the fieldhouse classroom.

All games will be played on Wednesday mornings and Friday and Sunday afternoons. Schedules will be ready Oct. 6 after 12 p.m.

The football season will conclude on Nov. 18 with one of Aquinas’ most exciting events, the Superbowl.

Paddleball Underway

by NANCY SHIREY

Intramural paddle ball tournaments are about to get underway.

There will be four categories in the single elimination tournament: men’s singles, men’s doubles, women’s singles and women’s doubles.

Rules for any of the intramural sports also pertain to the paddle ball tournament.

Students interested can sign-up Oct. 2-5 in the fieldhouse. Tournament schedules may be picked up in the fieldhouse Oct. 6.
Women's Volleyball Team Improving

by NANCY SHIREY

The women's volleyball team lost in a three team competition Monday, Sept. 25. Ferris State College came out on top of both Grand Rapids Junior College (G.R.J.C.) and Aquinas. Ferris beat Aquinas 15-10, 8-15, and 15-11.

The games were exciting with many excellent defensive plays and long volleys. Team captain Colleen Dame stated, "I think each match we improve a little more and we're now starting to click together. We've got a good coach and a lot of potential on the team. By the end of the season we'll be really good."

This year's Women's Volleyball Team: Front Row Jean Pelak, Deb Swidorski, Annette O'Brien, Ann Bonczyk, Julie Smith, Second Row Colleen Dame, Sally Gaskin, Barbara Otklozki, Third Row Carmen Espinosa, Marie LeCours.

SUNRISE, Aquinas College Student Press
October 4, 1978

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sun</th>
<th>Mon</th>
<th>Tues</th>
<th>Wed</th>
<th>Thurs</th>
<th>Fri</th>
<th>Sat</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jeff Haley—Senior Recital Mark Fickel One Man Show continuing.</td>
<td>Sorority 7:00 p.m. Oliveet at Home.</td>
<td>Women's Volleyball Calvin College, There 7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Women's Volleyball Calvin College, There 7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Physical Therapy Meeting 8:00 p.m. Movie: Showdown Starring Roy Thinnes.</td>
<td>Cross Dance There.</td>
<td>Country—Noire 7:00 p.m. Allegheny 3:05 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harvest Meal Pastoral Center 12:15 p.m.</td>
<td>Holy Who Nomination Drive Alumni Phonathon: Women's Volleyball Calvin College. There 7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Youth Meeting 12:15 p.m. Science Library.</td>
<td>G.R.J.C. Women's Volleyball 7:00 p.m. Alonso Anime Night.</td>
<td>French Club Meeting 8:04 p.m.</td>
<td>Country—Noire 7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Octoberfest 7:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>October Break Begins.</td>
<td>October Break Begins.</td>
<td>Fall Week 2:15 p.m.</td>
<td>Grace Bible College Away 3:45 p.m.</td>
<td>College—There 7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>Class Resume.</td>
<td>10/7 Halloween Dance-Roller world 9-11 M.W., Tu., Th., F. Wege Center 11:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SUNRISE Out 1489 Lake Dr. SE 682-2727 5:00-11:00 p.m. OR w. 3130 28th St. SE 218-301-4500. Good luck to the E-Z Knights Here's to friends forever!!

October

Orwants Party Store
1439 Lake Dr. SE
Aquinas Student Night Every Thursday 7-11 p.m.
Beer Discounts 25 cents off on 12 pack 10 cents off on six pack Student ID Required.

Camera Center
Photo Supplies and Cards
1533 Wealthy SE

WE BUY-SELL & TRADE BOOKS—MAGS—COMICS COLLECTOR ITEMS WEARS BOOK STORE
1105 ROBINSON AD. SE. GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. 49503

SUNRISE will print this calendar every issue on the back page. If you want an event on the November calendar you must have it in the SUNRISE by Oct. 11.

October

Classified Ads
A free service for Aquinas students

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Classified Ad</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>To: BO—MN—DD</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T.G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mrs. Pacholski</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mrs. Pederson</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T.H.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Witt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Crow</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Smiley</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Dungeon continued from page 5 ranging from religion to the birth of topical fish are discussed. The latter of the two having just been realized in Joseph's room. He is the proud father of approximately ten to fifteen newborn fish. Nervin's room, 113, is always rocking with electric vibes and jams. The vibes can at least be felt for floors around. This gives the boys in the Dungeon a real chance to torture someone. . . the happy one. I'd tell you CC, but my throat hurts too. I'll be thinking of you all. Love, Michelle |

October

classified ads

Who’s Who Applications
Nominations for Who’s Who Among Students at Aquinas can be made until Oct. 9. Nominations must be a student of junior, senior or graduate status. The program is open to both regular and continuing education students.

Fellow student, faculty and self nominations will be accepted. Who’s Who nomination forms are available at Regina and St. Joseph dorms, the Student Services office and Information Desk.

SUNRISE Out