Halloween Enjoyed by Aquinas Community

By Jill Johnson

Haunted houses, trick-or-treating, costumes and candy are all things that made the Halloweens of youth. By the time that people reach college age, they are expected to be mature, the magic and fun of Halloween is supposed to be part of their past. Aquinas College knows better than that. College students going door-to-door for candy may not be socially acceptable, but anyone on or near campus, on October 31, would have realized that it is still a vibrant part of a college student’s life.

Work on the Halloween festivities began on Saturday morning. Students and faculty gathered in Wege Center, where they converted the normal office space in the basement, into a “Witch’s Den”. Recorded screams bellowed through Wege as volunteers hung streamers, balloons, and other Halloween decorations. Colleen Murphy, a Resident Advisor in Regina Hall, expressed the sentiment of some students, “I have heard that a lot of people are more intimate than usual. For the party to provide the costumed children with a chance to begin their Halloween a little earlier than normal. They are glad that there will be something for them to do on Halloween.”

While the celebration was for Aquinas students, Halloween just would not be the same without children. A party was held for the children of students, faculty, staff and administration between 3:30 and 5:00 p.m. in the Snack Bar. Halloween never seems to last long enough when you are a child. The party provided the costumed children with a chance to begin their Halloween a little earlier than normal. The party also drew curious dorm residents. Barbie Barnes, a sophomore, stated, “It is a neat idea for kids so they can have a safe Halloween. A lot of parents don’t like their kids to go out trick-or-treating with all of the past tragedies. The party at Aquinas allowed them to get dressed up and have fun without worrying about the dangers.” The children listened to Halloween stories, bobbed for apples, played games, and ate popcorn and candy.

Trick-or-treating is one part of Halloween that people seem to never outgrow. Students who wanted to go trick-or-treating were able to this year. For one hour on the night of Halloween, students could trick-or-treat in the residence halls. A few students reached themselves for this event early, and came to dinner in costume.

Sponsors of the event were pleased with the turnout at the dance. Tony Roest stated, “The dance had a nice atmosphere, but I was disappointed that no prizes were awarded for the best costumes.” Popcorn and punch were served at the dance, for those who failed to gather enough candy while trick-or-treating.

A Mass of “All Hallows Eve” was said by Father Gerry Timmerman, following the dance. Dawn Michaels, a freshman, felt, “The mass was beautiful. It was more intimate than usual. For the offering people were asked to give up the masks that the wear. I will remember that mass forever.”

The Mass concluded the Halloween activities.

Aquinas College found out that Halloween is not just for children, but that college students can enjoy it too, in various ways.

Despite Hot Pursuits, Loan Defaults Increase

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)

Despite an aggressive campaign to track down people who aren’t repaying their student loans, the federal government will have to pay off $1.5 billion worth of defaulted Guaranteed Student Loans during the 1988 fiscal year, the Office of Management and Budget estimated August 27.

The amount represents a 25 percent increase over the current fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30.

The payoffs – made to the banks that actually lent the money to the students – typically happen when the banks are unable to collect the money.

The problem, said department spokeswoman Victoria Trupp, is that defaulters think “the federal government is an easy touch.”

But Mary Preston of the United States Student Association said “that’s a pretty simple analysis.”

Economic hardships, poor student financial counseling and rigid loan procedures force some borrowers to default on their student loans. Preston said.

“There are definitely abuses, but a lot of people are having a lot of trouble paying back loans,” Preston said. “The government needs to work with them.”

“We’ve tried in every way we can,” Trupp replied.

The government, she said, recently instituted an income-contingent program that reorganizes loan payments based on a borrower’s income. Borrowers with certain low-paying careers, such as teachers in poor regions, will have their debts “forgiven” if they qualify.

The program, however, currently is only in a pilot stage, and See LOAN DEFAULT on page 8

In This Issue

My Space .................................. Page 2
Editorial .................................. Page 3
Letter to the Editors .......................... Page 4
Arts & Entertainment .................. Page 4
Music/Movie Reviews ............... Page 4

Aquinas Times photo by John Petrie
Brother Ben, in costume, telling a story at the children’s Halloween party.
Education Majors

Plan to Avoid Cities

College Press Service

About 82 percent of today's education majors want to begin their teaching careers in rural schools, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) found in a survey released last week.

The education majors' wishes, the group concluded, may mean large urban schools with minority student bodies are going to have a tough time attracting teachers to work there.

Typically, said AACTE President William Gardner, prospective teachers are white women from suburban backgrounds. Only 5 percent of the education majors in college today are black; 9 percent are Hispanic. But even the prospective minority teachers did not want to work in inner-city schools, the survey indicated.

Inner-city schools, on the other hand, may need teachers more than others. Educators predict that by the year 2000 about 40 percent of the nation's elementary and secondary school students will be minorities.

The survey did not suggest how to get majors interested in teaching in inner-city schools, the group concluded. But the prospective minority teachers did not want to work in inner-city schools, the survey indicated.

Education majors graduated in the top third of their class, the survey showed, with a 3.1 grade point average on a scale of 4.

---

New Tuition Plan Endorsed by V.P. Bush

College Press Service

Vice President George Bush endorsed one of the exotic new "prepaid tuition" savings plans last week, soon after influential U.S. Sen. Claiborne Pell (D-R.I.) also proposed making such a plan national.

Thus far, only individual colleges and states have installed such plans, which allow parents to put aside money for their children's education years in advance.

Under the plan, parents could deposit a certain amount—say $4,000—into a special fund for their young child. The interest would compound during the years so that, once the student got to college, there would be enough money in the fund to pay for tuition.

Observers generally credit Duquesne University in Pittsburgh with inventing the idea in 1984. Since then, a number of private universities and colleges and the states of Michigan, Florida, Indiana, Maine, Tennessee and Wyoming have enacted plans allowing parents to prepay tuition at their campuses. A West Virginia plan will become law with Gov. Arch Moore's signature.

Illinois and North Carolina's legislatures reportedly are about to adopt such plans. In fact, only Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, South Dakota and New Hampshire are not considering prepaid tuition plans.

Some majors do not like the plans, however. They are "a bad idea whose time has come," said Robert Atwell, executive director of the American Association of Colleges in Education in Washington, D.C.

In a speech to the July convention of the Education Commission of the States, Atwell said, "If I had a young family right now, I'd invest in a mutual fund."

Speaking of financing a college education, U.S. Secretary of Education William Bennett, long an advocate of cutting federal student aid programs by as much as 45 percent, announced he would seek more modest cuts in the future.

Bennett, explained Dept. of Education Undersecretary Bruce Carino, feared his cutback proposals provoked hostility that, in turn, turned Congress off to his efforts to alter campus course work, tame tuition increases and chase down loan defaulters.

The Reagan administration will send its next education budget proposal to Congress in January, 1988.

The change may be too late for some.

In June, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges reported that federal support for two-year colleges dropped by 16.9 percent from fall, 1983 to fall, 1986.

Moreover, about 40 percent of the nation's undergraduate students and 50 percent of its graduate students may lose all or part of their eligibility for student loans this fall, Michael Novak, head of the U of Texas at Austin's aid office, estimated.

---

FUTURE

"The Bull et of the volatili be passed a few years ago. Whether it strong in the future,chi the President's 50 sound," who rode it.

For far reductions freeze, then, be passed seven year waiting period.

But, a variety of conditions may make the plan

---

My Space

By Christine Bichler

Pity poor Judge Bork. I mean that, really. No, I haven't changed my political bent (sorry to disappoint any you), but it's not hard to pity anyone whose past is dredged up with mercy for the entire country to gawk at. While Ted Kennedy and Ollie North did right, Joe Biden and Gary Hart did it wrong. The rest is television history.

With the benefits of disclosure in mind, I would like to get a come more-embracing facts out in the open. I confess (to Almighty God, you) that I have a young family right now, and I'd invest in a mutual fund."

In a speech to the July convention of the Education Commission of the States, Atwell said, "If I had a young family right now, I'd invest in a mutual fund."

Speaking of financing a college education, U.S. Secretary of Education William Bennett, long an advocate of cutting federal student aid programs by as much as 45 percent, announced he would seek more modest cuts in the future.

Bennett, explained Dept. of Education Undersecretary Bruce Carino, feared his cutback proposals provoked hostility that, in turn, turned Congress off to his efforts to alter campus course work, tame tuition increases and chase down loan defaulters.

The Reagan administration will send its next education budget proposal to Congress in January, 1988.

The change may be too late for some.

In June, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges reported that federal support for two-year colleges dropped by 16.9 percent from fall, 1983 to fall, 1986.

Moreover, about 40 percent of the nation's undergraduate students and 50 percent of its graduate students may lose all or part of their eligibility for student loans this fall, Michael Novak, head of the U of Texas at Austin's aid office, estimated.

---

ACT OF CONTRITION

My Space

By Christine Bichler

Pity poor Judge Bork. I mean that, really.

No, I haven't changed my political bent (sorry to disappoint any you), but it's not hard to pity anyone whose past is dredged up with mercy for the entire country to gawk at. While Ted Kennedy and Ollie North did right, Joe Biden and Gary Hart did it wrong. The rest is television history.

With the benefits of disclosure in mind, I would like to get a come more-embracing facts out in the open. I confess (to Almighty God, you) that I have a young family right now, and I'd invest in a mutual fund."

In a speech to the July convention of the Education Commission of the States, Atwell said, "If I had a young family right now, I'd invest in a mutual fund."

Speaking of financing a college education, U.S. Secretary of Education William Bennett, long an advocate of cutting federal student aid programs by as much as 45 percent, announced he would seek more modest cuts in the future.

Bennett, explained Dept. of Education Undersecretary Bruce Carino, feared his cutback proposals provoked hostility that, in turn, turned Congress off to his efforts to alter campus course work, tame tuition increases and chase down loan defaulters.

The Reagan administration will send its next education budget proposal to Congress in January, 1988.

The change may be too late for some.

In June, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges reported that federal support for two-year colleges dropped by 16.9 percent from fall, 1983 to fall, 1986.

Moreover, about 40 percent of the nation's undergraduate students and 50 percent of its graduate students may lose all or part of their eligibility for student loans this fall, Michael Novak, head of the U of Texas at Austin's aid office, estimated.

---

THE KAPLAN CURRICULUM FOR CAREER CLIMBERS:

LSAT, GMAT, MCAT, GRE, DAI, Advanced Medical Boards, TOEFL, Nursing Boards, NTE, CPA, Intro. to Law, Speed Reading, AND MORE

For nearly 50 years, Stanley H. Kaplan has prepared over 1 million students for admission and licensing tests. So before you take a test, prepare with the best. Kaplan.

A good score may help change your life.
Editorial

November 4, 1987

AQUINAS COLLEGE STUDENT PRESS

Page 3

FUTURE SHOCK

"The Bull is over." The "bull market" that is. The burgeoning stock market of the summer is now back where it began the year - healthy, but very volatile - able to jump up, or fall down hard. All of the tremendous gains made during the year were washed away in less than a one week period. Whether it was a strong economy pulling a weak stock market along, or a strong stock market pulling a weak economy along is open for debate, but in the final analysis (which in the case of the unpredictable market is constantly changing) something gave way.

President Reagan asserted, after the October 19th drop of an unprecedented 508 points, "The economic fundamentals in this country remain sound." A deja-vu statement, likened to another Republican president who rode the wave of prosperity, only to see it crash onto a shore of depression. No one is sure if the shaky market will lead to a depression, but many are worried that with dual deficits in the trade balance, and the Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

For far too long we have straddled a suicidal policy of huge budget reductions (in the proper areas). Only now is the option of a spending freeze being seriously considered in Congress. But the buck can no longer be passed to the Congress for all of the evils in society. Only now, after seven years of holding a loaded gun to our fiscal heads, is the President willing to possibly compromise on a tax increase (because of the crash).

But, why did the market crash? No one is really sure, it was probably a variety of reasons. And each person has their own scapegoat. It could have been all the market "gurus" that knew the market was overinflated and saw a big drop coming on. And yet, this skepticism, coupled with a few predictions by some bold seers for their followers to abandon the market, it could have spurred a snowball effect in selling. Perhaps with a bleak economic outlook, the investors felt that they were safer elsewhere, and acted accordingly. Some on Wall Street have pinned the blame on Treasury Secretary James Baker III and Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan for taking the wrong measures before, during and after the crash. Whatever the cause, it is universally accepted that the crash-week was magnified by the inhuman aspect of computer trading and programmed selling, and the fact that many people were buying things they couldn't afford, but did on credit anyway.

Hopefully, lessons have been learned (again) to help prevent such disastrous events in the future. But, there will be other circumstances then, and in turn the problems will have to be dealt with. Let, when something does happen, why did it happen? It didn't take a genius to see the potentially disastrous situation. Many experts had expressed their dis- may at the dangerous possibility of automated selling. But, no one took action. Why? Simply put., profits. That wonderful capitalist word. "We enjoyed the good times," and did so anyway on credit.

Whatever the cause, it is universally accepted that the crash-week was magnified by the inhuman aspect of computer trading and programmed selling, and the fact that many people were buying things they couldn't afford, but did on credit anyway.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

Letter to the Editor:

Goverance Structure Needs to Protect Rights

Dear Editor,

This letter is being sent in response to an article which appeared in the Aquinas Times on October 14, 1987. The specific article is "Fall Insititute Checks Governance" by Sister Mary Ann Barrett.

One of the most controversial issues the Aquinas community can discuss is its governing structure. Opinions are bound to be diverse with regard to rights, representation, effectiveness, and philosophical basis.

Currently, under the bicameral system established by the Board of Trustees, all members of the Aquinas community have significant input into the administration and policies of Aquinas College. The Community Senate and the Academic Assembly are designed to work together to better represent the entire community.

But, why did the market crash? No one is really sure, it was probably a variety of reasons. And each person has their own scapegoat. It could have been all the market "gurus" that knew the market was overinflated and saw a big drop coming on. And yet, this skepticism, coupled with a few predictions by some bold seers for their followers to abandon the market, it could have spurred a snowball effect in selling. Perhaps with a bleak economic outlook, the investors felt that they were safer elsewhere, and acted accordingly. Some on Wall Street have pinned the blame on Treasury Secretary James Baker III and Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan for taking the wrong measures before, during and after the crash. Whatever the cause, it is universally accepted that the crash-week was magnified by the inhuman aspect of computer trading and programmed selling, and the fact that many people were buying things they couldn't afford, but did on credit anyway.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.

The generations to follow, including our own, are going to get hit with a debt. An indebtedness that we are not prepared to deal with, mainly because we have not prepared to. The Federal budget, that the economy looks to be a beautiful sand castle with a tidal wave coming in.
Wiseblood’s Genius for the Daring Listener

Wiseblood "Dirt Dish" (Some Bizarre/Relativity Records)
By Scott Sundberg

Perhaps the best way to describe this album would be to give a brief background of the two collaborators, Jim Thrall (aka Clint Ruin) and Rolli Mosimann. Thrall is an Australian, living in New York, his main project is the entity known as Foolscap. Under the Foolscap blanket, Thrall has been an utter disaster and an American film and liked the director was interested in shooting Peter Verhoeven. The Dutch work with that idea before hiring a policeman is brought back to life down by a band of criminals led trying to find a director willing to make it into one of the best films RoboCop (Orion Pictures)ence (Kurtwood Smith). Weller's OCP, a corporation that controls able and obedient servant of Detroit's police force. For a time, our mechanized hero and Clar- houses so you can't beat the price. Action, drama, and humor to action begins to pick up, along shootouts and chase sequences, it our mechanized hero and Clar-executives at OCP eventually decide to destroy him. While Robocop is in the midst of his identity crisis, Clarence and his band began working for Dick Jones (Ronny Cox) who is OCP's vice-president. Robocop discovers the connection but is unable to take action against Jones because of a directive in his programming forbidding him to arrest executives of OCP. The stage is set for an explosive showdown between our mechanized hero and Clarence's band of killers.

The action in "Robocop" never slows down, but in spite of the shootouts and chase sequences, it is more of a comedy than a straight action picture. Along comes a truly ridiculous scene, such as a terrifying and deadly walking tank that is unable to navigate a stairwell and tumbles to the foot of the stairs where, unable to get up, it kicks its legs in frustration like a small child. At another point, a typical American family is gathered together to play a friendly game of "Nuke 'Em!" with such English pop bands asMosimann manages to accentuate顺着 songs that are definitely huge rhythms. No Phil Collins-style doodlings here, thank you. Marvelous for those who want to take a trip down the dark side of life. He does not sing about things such as misguided youth, things like this, and he does not just scream, he actually SINGS!

"Motorcycle" 12" single "Yank 'Em Crank 'Em Don't

So, would I recommend this record? No, probably not unless I knew it would appeal to the person I was talking to. Wiseblood is not a band for the faint-of-heart or macho poseurs. They are an experiment in deauchery, a trip down the dark side of human nature. This is an English hard rock record, definitely not for kids or most adults. For those who dare, though, this record could be an unforgettable experience to be filed away with a little wickedness is deserved.

Also available:

Also available:

Twisted Sister, Thrallwell's lyrics and music and Mosimann presents to give this album would be to give a brief background of the two collaborators, Jim Thrall (aka Clint Ruin) and Rolli Mosimann. Thrall is an Australian, living in New York, his main project is the entity known as Foolscap. Under the Foolscap blanket, Thrall has been an utter disaster and an American film and liked the director was interested in shooting Peter Verhoeven. The Dutch work with that idea before hiring a policeman is brought back to life down by a band of criminals led trying to find a director willing to make it into one of the best films RoboCop (Orion Pictures)ence (Kurtwood Smith). Weller's OCP, a corporation that controls able and obedient servant of Detroit's police force. For a time, our mechanized hero and Clar-executives at OCP eventually decide to destroy him. While Robocop is in the midst of his identity crisis, Clarence and his band began working for Dick Jones (Ronny Cox) who is OCP's vice-president. Robocop discovers the connection but is unable to take action against Jones because of a directive in his programming forbidding him to arrest executives of OCP. The stage is set for an explosive showdown between our mechanized hero and Clarence's band of killers.

The action in "Robocop" never slows down, but in spite of the shootouts and chase sequences, it is more of a comedy than a straight action picture. Along comes a truly ridiculous scene, such as a terrifying and deadly walking tank that is unable to navigate a stairwell and tumbles to the foot of the stairs where, unable to get up, it kicks its legs in frustration like a small child. At another point, a typical American family is gathered together to play a friendly game of "Nuke 'Em!" with such English pop bands as Mosimann manages to accentuate顺着 songs that are definitely huge rhythms. No Phil Collins-style doodlings here, thank you. Marvelous for those who want to take a trip down the dark side of life. He does not sing about things such as misguided youth, things like this, and he does not just scream, he actually SINGS!

"Motorcycle" 12" single "Yank 'Em Crank 'Em Don't

So, would I recommend this record? No, probably not unless I knew it would appeal to the person I was talking to. Wiseblood is not a band for the faint-of-heart or macho poseurs. They are an experiment in deauchery, a trip down the dark side of human nature. This is an English hard rock record, definitely not for kids or most adults. For those who dare, though, this record could be an unforgettable experience to be filed away with a little wickedness is deserved.

Also available:

Also available:
Cultural Calendar

Through Nov. 22

Through Nov. 23

Nov. 17-Nov. 29
Exhibit: “Photo Montage,” AMC Gallery, 1-4 p.m. daily.

Through Dec. 17
Art Faculty Exhibit, Calvin College Center Art Gallery.

Through Jan. 3

Nov. 14
Petra in concert, Calvin College Fieldhouse, 7:30 p.m. Tickets required. Call 957-6582.

Nov. 15
Aquinas Music Department Faculty Recital, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 16
Documentary Film Series: “In a Jazz Way,” Auditorium, Gerald R. Ford Museum, 303 Pearl St. N.W., 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 17
Comedian Sam Kinison in concert, State Theatre, 404 S. Burdick, Kalamazoo, 8 p.m. Tickets: $16.50 through TicketMaster.

Nov. 19

Nov. 22
Aquinas Percussion Ensemble in Concert, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 23
“Report from the Middle East,” with speakers from Grand Valley, Hope, and Calvin Colleges, Zonta Room, Grand Rapids Public Library, 7-9 p.m. Sponsored by the Institute for Global Education.

Nov. 29
Aquinas Concert Choir with the Flint U-M Chamber Choir, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 12

Nov. 13
The Aquinas Concert Choir with the Flint U-M Chamber Choir, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 10
“Roman Scandels,” and “Roberta,” Cook Auditorium, Grand Rapids Art Museum, 155 N. Division, 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Admission: $3.

Nov. 8
Exhibit: “Photography,” AMC Gallery, 1-4 p.m. daily.

Dec. 1
“Scarlet Letter,” Cook Auditorium, Grand Rapids Art Museum, 155 N. Division, 2:30 p.m. Admission: $3.

Nov. 11
Films: “Roman Scandels,” and "Roberta,” Cook Auditorium, Grand Rapids Art Museum, 155 N. Division, 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Admission: $3.

Nov. 12

Nov. 14
Petra in concert, Calvin College Fieldhouse, 7:30 p.m. Tickets required. Call 957-6582.

Nov. 15
Aquinas Music Department Faculty Recital, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 16
Documentary Film Series: “In a Jazz Way,” Auditorium, Gerald R. Ford Museum, 303 Pearl St. N.W., 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 17
Comedian Sam Kinison in concert, State Theatre, 404 S. Burdick, Kalamazoo, 8 p.m. Tickets: $16.50 through TicketMaster.

Nov. 19

Nov. 22
Aquinas Percussion Ensemble in Concert, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.

Nov. 23
“Report from the Middle East,” with speakers from Grand Valley, Hope, and Calvin Colleges, Zonta Room, Grand Rapids Public Library, 7-9 p.m. Sponsored by the Institute for Global Education.

Nov. 29
Aquinas Concert Choir with the Flint U-M Chamber Choir, AMC Kretschmer Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m. Admission free.
The Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1 Hesitation
6 Change
11 Dinemake
13 Place where best are kept
14 Sign: abbr.
15 Lured
17 Artificial language
18 Small bird
20 Disturbances
21 Small child
22 Brother of Jacob
24 Afternoon party
25 Possessive pronoun
26 Shade
28 Names
30 King of beasts
32 Bows
33 More torrid
35 Crimson, a.
37 Rabbit
38 Golf mound
39 Rodents
42 Bitter vetch
43 Babylonian hero
45 Stiff
46 Paid notice
47 Notes
49 Symbol for illucum
50 Rest
52 Directed
54 Hands
55 Iron

DOWN
1 Dough for pastry
2 Painter
3 Chaldean city
4 Pose for portrait
5 Without end
6 Smiers
7 Cover
8 Symbol for tantalum
9 Mistakes
10 Hindu peasants
12 Send forth
13 Reach
16 Bard
18 Clothe-makers
21 Follows Monday
23 Join
25 More ancient
27 Small child
29 Rocky hill
31 Irritate
33 More difficult
34 Acual
36 Gravestones
37 Vital organ
38 Son of Seth
41 Ornamental
knobs
43 Direction 44 Above and touching
47 Neckpiece
48 Title of respect
51 Hebrew letter
53 French article

At Old Kent Bank, we know you’re on a hectic schedule and you need convenient banking. We also know that your budget is tight and a few extra bucks can really make a difference. That’s why we offer a special, inexpensive account just for students called ActionBank Checking.

ActionBank Checking includes:
* no minimum balance requirement
* access to ActionBank24® machines — more locations in Greater Grand Rapids than any other bank
* 5 free checks per month
* only a $1.50 monthly statement fee

So when you open a checking account this year, open one that gives you the most convenience at the least cost. Those few extra bucks in your pocket might not buy a new car, or a plane ticket to Florida, but they can get you a new record, a pizza, or at least a start on that tropical tan.

Call or stop by your local Old Kent office to find out more about ActionBank Checking.
Sports

Three Cross Country Runners Eye Nationals

By Bryan Rizzo

As the men's and women's Cross Country season moves along, the nationals are becoming the goal for many of the runners.

In the only dual meet of the season the Lady Saints soundly defeated Grand Rapids Junior College 34-23. The men did not fare as well, because they were competing with just four runners.

Then, at the Spring Arbor Invitational, Antionette Smith and Chris Leon placed 8th and 9th, respectively, out of a field of over 70 runners. Doug Bourdon placed 17th and Jim Lynch 27th for the men. However, both runners could have done much better, but they arrived at the meet just 25 minutes before they had to run.

Next on the schedule is the NAIA District 23 meet at Spring Arbor. At this meet Coach Jeff Brazier hopes that both Leon and Smith will qualify for nationals. Both are top seeds only behind the Hillsdale team. In order to qualify for the nationals they must place in the top 5. For the men Doug Bourdon could qualify for the nationals on November 21 in Kenosha, Wi., with a top 7 performance.

Coach Brazier says of the team, "I expect "gutsy" races out of all of them, they will have to earn it if they want to qualify."

Intramural Football

Standings

As of November 2, 1987

MEN'S "A" LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Wins</th>
<th>Losses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fetal-Force</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T&amp;B IV</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nasty Boys</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Generics</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Four Kins</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scabs</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MEN'S "B" LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Wins</th>
<th>Losses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hruby Demons</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budweiser</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gnda's</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quality S.S.</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shindigs</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Wins</th>
<th>Losses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pain &amp; Confusion</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Again</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Air Attackers</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rege Raiders</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You've thought about it.

You've tried to imagine what it would be like.

You know it would be exciting. And a challenge. And quite possibly the most rewarding experience of your life... .

Three Americans overseas in Asia, Africa and South America speak frankly on what Peace Corps life is like for them.

It isn’t easy and it isn’t for everyone—they’ll tell you that up front.

But if you’ve ever considered going overseas in the Peace Corps, then now is your chance to see and hear for yourself what could be "the toughest job you’ll ever love."

"Note: Former Peace Corps volunteers will be on hand to answer questions following the 25 minute film. And it’s free!"

Thursday, November 12th
12:00 noon
Wege Hall Cafeteria
(Interviews November 19, 1987)
(313) 226-7928

U.S. Peace Corps The Movie
"The Toughest Job You'll Ever Love"

Aquinas Times photo by John Petrie

Rus Stevens (above photo), Steve Vales and Tom Egeler (bottom photo), of Team Budweiser, playing Intramural football.
Loan Defaults, from page 1

prospective problems with it kept the vast majority of campuses from applying to join the pilot program.

To recoup some of its losses, Tripp said Washington will try "to send the signal that the federal government is no longer an easy touch."

The Internal Revenue Service still is withholding tax refunds from defaulters, a move that’s netted more than $135 million in ‘85 and ‘86, Tripp said.

The Education Dept. also is employing collection agencies "aggressively," tying student loan defaults to borrower credit ratings and passing collection costs on to defaulters.

Defaulters employed by the federal government also have their salaries garnished, Tripp said.

Correction:

In the October 14 issue of the Aquinas Times, many confused the article titled "Sixty-Five Limit Debate Continues" as an Aquinas Times editorial. In actuality it was a release from State Senator Dick Posthumus, expressing his view of the legislation. We apologize for the confusion.

Classifieds

ATTENTION STUDENTS: Need a term paper, resume or letter typed at reasonable rates? Call Amy at 538-1993 after 12:30 p.m.

NOW HIRING - Vector Corp's local branch expanding throughout Greater Grand Rapids. 35 student openings. Flexible schedule; 10:30 hrs/wk. Annually award $13,000 in student scholarships. Internships available pending advisor approval. $5/hr to start. Career openings also. Must have 2.5 GPA or above. May work full-time during breaks. All majors may apply. College accredited training program. For interview call Stacey at 361-8207 between 3 and 6 p.m.

HELP WANTED - Travel field opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money. Campus representatives needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida or South Padre Island. Call Campus Marketing at 1-800-282-6221.

TRAVEL OPPORTUNITY - FREE - Trip to Daytona plus commission money. Going to Florida? Go for free. Take advantage of promoting the Number 1 Spring Break Trip. If interested call Designers of Travel 1-800-453-9074.

HELP WANTED - HOMEWORK - ERS WANTED! TOP PAY! C. I. 121 24th Ave., N.W. Suite 222 Norman, Oklahoma 73069

CAREERS IN ART

"Internships and Careers in Art — The Aquinas Art Department" is the topic for a meeting of Art students on Sunday, November 8, 1987 at 7:00 p.m. in AMC 209.

Members of the Aquinas Art Faculty will be discussing careers in Art, the Aquinas Internship Program in Art, the Chicago Internship Program, goals and advantages of a Fine Arts education, strategies to market yourself as an artist as well as information on our growing photography program. Any interested Aquinas student is invited to attend.

You remember. She was always there when you were frightened. And if you got hurt, she was standing by with bandages. Wouldn’t it feel good to talk to your mother again right now?

Calling over AT&T Long Distance Service probably costs less than you think, too. And if you have any questions about AT&T rates or service, a customer service representative is always standing by to talk to you. Just call 1 800 222-0300.

Sure, your schoolwork and your friends keep you busy. But call home and find out what she’s wrapped up in.

Call your mummy.