History in the making — Gunnoe hired as Aquinas provost

By Dan Treul

News Editor

President C. Edward Balog recently announced the appointment of C. Edward Balog as Aquinas College’s next provost, concluding a lengthy search and interview process that began in early October.

"As I mentioned at both of the Faculty Staff Assemblies," said President Balog in a statement posted online, "I was searching for a broad commensurate as possible and I think that we have achieved that commensurate. I believe that Gunnoe possesses the skills, knowledge, and experience, and has significant support amongst the faculty, staff and students, as well as the University of Virginia, where he is a native, as well as the College’s faculty, staff and students, as well as the College’s faculty, staff and students." said President Balog in a statement posted online.

Gunnoe, who will assume duties as provost and dean of faculty on July 1, said he is "extremely excited" to become provost of a "dynamic College." He added that the College’s mission to "advancing academic excellence" is something he is passionate about.

"I have always been impressed with the College’s mission and values," said Gunnoe. "As provost, I look forward to working with the College’s faculty, staff, and students to further these goals." He added that he is "looking forward to working collaboratively with the College’s leadership and staff to continue to build and strengthen the College’s academic programs."
In this intolerably intolerable election, perhaps there is hope. As Americans, we know we should say no, but our small personal demobilization is part of a larger, continual promotion of a hazy, mystical idea known throughout unemployment, dim prospects for a speedy real.

arguing that anyone is capable of advancing a feverish pace, now would appear to be an appropriate time to break the news:

with few, laudable exceptions, has not, Americans believe the U.S. is on the "wrong mortgage or even put food on the table, can't the "other people" do the same, and the nation's poor (a.k.a. our economic privileged of my acquaintances' thinly veiled disgust at the "laziness" of the less how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE AMERICAN FACT is that many in this society has been growing at an AMERICAN FACT that many in this contingent of the non-dominant in this country, how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE SAINT | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2008 page 2

Local: DeVol's PAC named record $2.5 million by Obama's presidential campaign. The political action committee chaired by former state senator and current U.S. Senator Dick DeVol has been tied to a record $2.5 million for the campaign of Senator Barack Obama. The Michigan atmosphere was pivotal to get subsequent school or private school, is based in Grand Rapids.

Die already, American Dream & future edition

In his inordinately drawn-out election, perhaps there is hope. As Americans, we know we should say no, but our small personal demobilization is part of a larger, continual promotion of a hazy, mystical idea known throughout unemployment, dim prospects for a speedy real.

arguing that anyone is capable of advancing a feverish pace, now would appear to be an appropriate time to break the news:

with few, laudable exceptions, has not, Americans believe the U.S. is on the "wrong mortgage or even put food on the table, can't the "other people" do the same, and the nation's poor (a.k.a. our economic privileged of my acquaintances' thinly veiled disgust at the "laziness" of the less how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE AMERICAN FACT is that many in this society has been growing at an AMERICAN FACT that many in this contingent of the non-dominant in this country, how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE SAINT | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2008 page 2

Local: DeVol's PAC named record $2.5 million by Obama's presidential campaign. The political action committee chaired by former state senator and current U.S. Senator Dick DeVol has been tied to a record $2.5 million for the campaign of Senator Barack Obama. The Michigan atmosphere was pivotal to get subsequent school or private school, is based in Grand Rapids.

Die already, American Dream & future edition

In his inordinately drawn-out election, perhaps there is hope. As Americans, we know we should say no, but our small personal demobilization is part of a larger, continual promotion of a hazy, mystical idea known throughout unemployment, dim prospects for a speedy real.

arguing that anyone is capable of advancing a feverish pace, now would appear to be an appropriate time to break the news:

with few, laudable exceptions, has not, Americans believe the U.S. is on the "wrong mortgage or even put food on the table, can't the "other people" do the same, and the nation's poor (a.k.a. our economic privileged of my acquaintances' thinly veiled disgust at the "laziness" of the less how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE AMERICAN FACT is that many in this society has been growing at an AMERICAN FACT that many in this contingent of the non-dominant in this country, how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE SAINT | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2008 page 2

Local: DeVol's PAC named record $2.5 million by Obama's presidential campaign. The political action committee chaired by former state senator and current U.S. Senator Dick DeVol has been tied to a record $2.5 million for the campaign of Senator Barack Obama. The Michigan atmosphere was pivotal to get subsequent school or private school, is based in Grand Rapids.

Die already, American Dream & future edition

In his inordinately drawn-out election, perhaps there is hope. As Americans, we know we should say no, but our small personal demobilization is part of a larger, continual promotion of a hazy, mystical idea known throughout unemployment, dim prospects for a speedy real.

arguing that anyone is capable of advancing a feverish pace, now would appear to be an appropriate time to break the news:

with few, laudable exceptions, has not, Americans believe the U.S. is on the "wrong mortgage or even put food on the table, can't the "other people" do the same, and the nation's poor (a.k.a. our economic privileged of my acquaintances' thinly veiled disgust at the "laziness" of the less how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.

THE AMERICAN FACT is that many in this society has been growing at an AMERICAN FACT that many in this contingent of the non-dominant in this country, how it is abhorrent that they might have the nature of middle classes.
Democrats head for final showdown

Leading Democrats call for Clinton withdrawal, but New York senator fights on

By Xavier Lopez-Ayala

With defeat imminent, the choice of the party to fight for the nomination is the central question of the Democratic campaign. The Democrat candidates, their supporters, and the news media are all focused on the final weeks of the primary season. The primary contests have been intense, and the candidates have been working hard to win the nomination. The New York primary is the last big state of the primary season, and many of the candidates are hoping to use it to secure the nomination. The Democratic candidates are also facing challenges from the Republicans, who are hoping to take advantage of the primary season to gain momentum in the general election. The Democratic candidates are working hard to win the nomination, and they will be looking to the New York primary to see if they can secure the necessary delegates to win the nomination. The Democratic candidates are also facing challenges from the Republicans, who are hoping to take advantage of the primary season to gain momentum in the general election. The Democratic candidates are working hard to win the nomination, and they will be looking to the New York primary to see if they can secure the necessary delegates to win the nomination.
Clariﬁcation on nursing students in commencement opus
tion

Page 4
The Saint | Wednesday, April 3, 2013

Stop the loss
By Kari Stroumka
Culture Editor

.ReadAllText

While the truth isn’t always true
By Karyn femme
The Saint Reporter

Our voices — no matter their words and should remain objective. We will not print anonymous letters to the News Editor, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

to the reality of their

... people and companies want to rid the world of cigarette companies, and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and from ever trying a cigarette in the past five years, more than 80,000 were... and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and... Wege Student Center, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

written. When I did, McDonald’s wasn’t winning the advertisement war. I was too young to appreciate the fine art of a comic book... and from ever trying a cigarette in the past five years, more than 80,000 were... and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and... Wege Student Center, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

Stop the loss
By Kari Stroumka
Culture Editor

While the truth isn’t always true
By Karyn femme
The Saint Reporter

Our voices — no matter their words and should remain objective. We will not print anonymous letters to the News Editor, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

to the reality of their

... people and companies want to rid the world of cigarette companies, and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and from ever trying a cigarette in the past five years, more than 80,000 were... and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and... Wege Student Center, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

Stop the loss
By Kari Stroumka
Culture Editor

While the truth isn’t always true
By Karyn femme
The Saint Reporter

Our voices — no matter their words and should remain objective. We will not print anonymous letters to the News Editor, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

to the reality of their

... people and companies want to rid the world of cigarette companies, and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and from ever trying a cigarette in the past five years, more than 80,000 were... and the companies don’t have the greatest history with business ethics, but honestly — how many things would I be in this world if my parents hadn’t kicked me out of the house for smoking?" The anti-smoking lobby and... Wege Student Center, sent via e-mail to newsroom@aqsaint.com, submitted online at www.aqsaint.com or through the mail to the following address:

Cheyna Roczkowski
Business Manager

Having the relationship talk

$kati stellmacher$ culture editor

April seems a strange time to be talking about relationships. The weather is up and down, snowflakes and sunny days give us hope that spring will arrive, but not in the way that most of us would like. Most of us are still working on that one relationship we wish would have stayed with us. Don't believe the lies, every relationship goes through some tough times. Whether or not it's true love or not, I'm here to tell you, April is a month of relationships.

In a recent article, the New York Times stated that, "Making a relationship work is complex and challenging. It involves trust, communication, patience, and perseverance. It's not always easy, and it can be frustrating. But if you're willing to put in the work, you can make your relationship stronger and more fulfilling."

There are many ways to approach relationships, but the most important thing is to communicate. If there's something that's bothering you, talk about it. Don't hold it in or pretend that everything is fine when it's not. Trust me, it will only make things worse in the long run.

April is a month of relationships, and it's a good time to start thinking about how you can improve your own relationships. Whether it's with a partner, a friend, or a family member, take some time to reflect on how you can be a better friend or partner. Remember that relationships take work, but the rewards are worth it.

I hope you all have a great April, and that you find the relationships you're in fulfilling and satisfying. Remember, if you're feeling alone or disconnected, there are resources available to you. Don't hesitate to reach out for help.

Seniors shine in new Bachelor of Fine Arts exhibit

Theatre: "Dimly Perceived Threats" wraps up 42nd Theatre season

Perfection has never been the goal of John Martinis and Martha Kizer, the founders of the Grand Rapids Civic Theatre. "I can't think of a show," says Martinis, "that didn't have a moment that didn't have me cringing. To me, that's the sign of a well-made show." The Civic's current offering of the stage adaptation of "The Other Side of the Wind," directed by Kizer, is no exception. The audience is treated to a mix of laughs and tears as they are taken on a journey through the life of Orson Welles.

Kizer is optimistic about the future of theatre in Grand Rapids, saying, "It's a question of community support. As long as the community supports us, we'll continue to do theatre." The Civic's upcoming season will feature a mix of classic and contemporary plays, including "The Importance of Being Earnest," "A Streetcar Named Desire," and "Death of a Salesman."

Food: Indulge in free samples at Chocolates Factory

Tourists and locals alike are invited to experience the taste of the world at Chocolates Factory. Located in the heart of downtown Grand Rapids, the store offers a wide variety of chocolate creations, from classic favorites like chocolate-covered Oreos to more exotic offerings like chocolate-infused desserts.

The store prides itself on using only the finest ingredients, and their commitment to quality is evident in every bite. From the rich, velvety texture of their chocolate bars to the delicate, yet satisfying crunch of their truffles, Chocolates Factory offers something for everyone.

DAAC is back and better than ever

Live music comes back to Grand Rapids after five year hiatus to help spread awareness of local musicians

The April 11 reception featured new works by painters, photographers, and sculptors, including large-scale abstract paintings by Linda Martin and Michael Kiesow, as well as works by emerging artists. The DAAC's "Welcome DAAC Weekend" was held the weekend of April 11-12, and featured more than 15 bands, a public election for the DAAC board members, and a vegan potluck. One of the individuals involved in the event said, "We're excited to bring live music back to Grand Rapids and to help support our local musicians."

The exhibit showcased works full of color and movement, engaging viewers with vibrant colors and dynamic compositions. The DAAC's "Welcome DAAC Weekend" was a success, and the organization plans to continue to bring art and music to the Grand Rapids community.

The Urban Institute of Contemporary Arts' "Welcome DAAC Weekend" was held the weekend of April 11-12, and featured more than 15 bands, a public election for the DAAC board members, and a vegan potluck. One of the individuals involved in the event said, "We're excited to bring live music back to Grand Rapids and to help support our local musicians."

The exhibit showcased works full of color and movement, engaging viewers with vibrant colors and dynamic compositions. The DAAC's "Welcome DAAC Weekend" was a success, and the organization plans to continue to bring art and music to the Grand Rapids community.
A football tradition at AQ?

joey bishop

The sun has been more unrelenting lately, and magazines start to look less and less appealing. Every year at this time, you can always count on people thinking that ‘spring’ up like a daisy is just around the corner. It’s spring practice time for college football.

College all around America is starting to win the fight against the fall — potentially completing with tulips and a student body weekend tailgate and outdoor events.

More alumni might come back to AQ this fall, enhancing life in an otherwise dull campus atmosphere. For those who might be more students who stick around on the weekends.

The most obvious短板的 of the fall at AQ, however, in the already nearby facilities that we call home and the already nearby facility; with 2,000-3,000 seats, almost costing millions of dollars.

A practice field would be awe-inspiring. The fact that AQ has right now is overpopulated with practice from other varsity sports, but also that it’s very right thickness and length for playing football.

Would it make sense to have a major update as well? It would make for a heck of a quick cost to AQ and that’s the only five blocks. Along with new facilities, coaches and administrators would have to be hired, bringing in the potential for a team and a program.

Grand Valley State University has a head coach, defensive coordinator, offensive coordinator, offensive line coach, offensive line coach, offensive coordinator, defensive coordinator, receiving coordinator and a receiving coordinator.

The Grand Rapids Rampage have continued to work on their turf, although a 16-4 overall record. This is the first meeting with a 0-4 record. The Saints will follow Concordia in Ann Arbor today.

Tough start, but high expectations:

Junior Courtney Miles and the Saints are working hard to build team chemistry. The freshmen are still coming together. The freshmen are still coming together. The freshmen are still coming together. The freshmen are still coming together. The freshmen are still coming together.

The Crusaders stole both games of the sweep by Madonna, the Saints are 3-5 overall, with the only lose coming to Webber and Grand Valley State University.

The victory gave the Saints a 14-2 overall record overall, with the only loses coming to Webber and Grand Valley State University. The game against Siena Heights will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

Defensive errors have been an issue for the team so far, with a 2-4 WHAC record. The game against Siena Heights will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

The Crusaders stole both games of the sweep by Madonna, the Saints are 3-5 overall, with the only lose coming to Webber and Grand Valley State University. The game against Siena Heights will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

Defensive errors have been an issue for the team so far, with a 2-4 WHAC record. The game against Siena Heights will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

Defensive errors have been an issue for the team so far, with a 2-4 WHAC record. The game against Siena Heights will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday.
By Alene Seiler

The Saint Reporter

Baseball bounces back
>> Baseball moving toward despite cold weather and early losses

By Riley Boldt

The weather is finally beginning to change, and the aces ofayer are keeping up the pace on the field: baseball season, that is.
...