Dear Student:

Welcome! Whether you are a new student attending Aquinas College for the first time or one returning for more study, welcome! If you are the former, you will find this a friendly place— if the latter, I need not tell you what you already know, merely reassure you that Aquinas will continue to be the friendly place you remember.

The 1982-83 academic year is going to be an interesting one. Aquinas College is just completing the first general capital campaign in its history, and you will begin to see the fruits of our friends' generosity this year. Our goal was $5,000,000—$4,000,000 for capital improvements and $1,000,000 for endowment. Thus far we have received in gifts and pledges, more than $4,300,000 enabling us to continue the renovation and new construction of facilities on schedule. Here is our timetable:

Holmdene. The renovation of the beautiful 1905 Lowe mansion to create new faculty and administrative office space has been completed.

Albertus Magnus Science Hall Air-conditioning installed; seating reupholstered, new audio-visual equipment purchased. Work is virtually completed.

Maintenance Building: Will be finished this Fall.

Art and Music Building: Ground will be broken for this 24,000 square-foot, $1.8 million building late this Winter or early Spring—on the high ground north of the Administration Building. You will be invited to the ceremony.

And that is only the beginning. When the Art and Music Building is completed, probably by January, 1984, we will then move those departments into their new quarters allowing us to complete the all-important renovation of the Administration Building. As you may know, the second floor was converted into today's modern Woodhouse Learning Resource Center a few years ago, but the rest of the building still fits the description of the way who said that its architectural style is "penitentiary rococo." The building is solid as a rock and readily adaptable because its interior walls are not weight-bearing, but the need for air-conditioning, heating control, better lighting and ventilation, remodeling and redecorating are all too apparent. A new computer center to accommodate our rapidly expanding Computer Information Systems major has high priority.

Your comfort and convenience are our primary concerns. Creating for you an environment in which learning is not only profitable but a pleasure is our intention. Hundreds of friends of Aquinas College—your friends though you may not know them—are making this possible through the generous investment of their resources in our College. They expect no more thanks from you than that you make good use of the facilities they are providing for your education. This is as it should be.

We are glad you are here. Welcome! I hope that 1982-83 will be a great year for you.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Norbert J. Hruby

Aquinas College President, Dr. Norbert J. Hruby.

Black Tie Series Returns

The Black Tie Series is returning to Aquinas College this year, due to last year's popularity, with three fine art performances.

The series will open Sept. 10 with classic pianist Sally Christian. Single tickets will be $3.50 for students, $5.50 for faculty, and $7.50 for the public.

The Repertory Theatre of America's "Alpha—Omega Players" will present Bernard Slade's, "Same Time Next Year" in a dinner theatre format.

Season tickets will be $9.00 for students, $11.00 for faculty, and $13.00 for the public.

Penalties for not returning materials to the LRC, or for failing to report lost materials are stiff. Students names that have extended past the third notice file to the "long overdue" file will be frozen in the computer— their transcripts will not be sent out, according to Circulation Technician Pam Luebke.

The new system is designed to get books back for others to use," said Luebke. "Lost books or ones that are never returned may cost over $20 or $30 if we need to replace them."

The penalties are not overly stiff, she feels. "We have to pay people to work here, and when they can't replace materials," Luebke explained.

Library Board:

Stiff Fines For The Future

With records of fines and lost books numbering into the hundreds, the Aquinas College Library Board has restructured the overdue/fine schedule for the Woodhouse Learning Resource Center.

Feeling that the rate of 5 cents per day for each item was not enough of a deterrent, the board has raised the fine to $1.00 for the first notice per overdue item to students.

The first notice will not be sent to students until a grace period has elapsed, usually about 10 days. This grace period may be shortened and the notice sent out sooner if the material is in great demand or is reserved by another student. In this case the $1 fine goes into effect at the time the notice is sent.

For each overdue item, the student will be fined $5 for the second notice and $10 for the third notice. In addition, they will be charged a $10 fee for lost material.

Renewal of materials, except periodicals, can be done on or the day before the material is due. Phone renewals are possible by calling 459—8281, ext. 235. Materials which have been requested by another student cannot be renewed.

I want to stress that we hope we don't ever have to collect the fines. But realistically we will be levying these fines, hopefully not many," said Barb Schichtel, the Serials/Reference Librarian, formerly the Circulation Technician.

Fabian Heads Toward Olympics

Fabian Knizacky, a 1982 Aquinas College graduate, is a contender for the 1984 summer Olympics to be held in Los Angeles.

His specialty is the "Race— walk," a race in which the contestants walk, instead of run. Contestants must keep one foot on the ground at all times.

Knizacky is currently training at the United States Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs for the 20 km. and/or 50 km. events.
Dear Students:

We are writing to welcome you back to campus and to an interesting year.

As Community Senate officers, we will be representing you, and in order to do this in the best possible way, we need your input. We have some exciting things planned this year beginning Friday, Aug. 27, with the Bowl Party. Everyone is welcome so please take advantage of the free food and fun.

We want to serve you as well as possible in both government and student activities. If you have any ideas, questions, or concerns, feel free to contact us at any time.

The Community Senate is the Aquinas students' government. It is run by students, who are called "Senators," and headed by Chairman Tony Doman, a junior. Through the Senate, activities and services are planned, students' rights are clarified, and unified student communication is transferred to the Aquinas Administration and Faculty. Anyone with a desire to serve a senator can pick up a pamphlet beginning on Wednesday, Aug. 25, at the Senate's Welcome Fair Booth. Pamphlets will also be available until Friday, September 3 in the Community Senate Office located in the Wege Center lower level.

In the pamphlet is a description of the Senate and a senator petition form. The petition must have 15 unduplicated signatures to be valid. Every student may only sign one candidate's petition. All petitions must be in by September 3.

The Senate Office will be open Monday through Friday; information is always available there and messages can be left in the mailbox.

All students are encouraged to become a Senator. If you choose not to, remember that the petition you sign is for your representative. Take advantage of this.

Petitions are available in the Senate Office.

We are looking forward to a super year.

Soup's On At Aquinas

Affectionately known as "Brownbaggers," this year's lunchtime fine arts series is called SOPUCON/SOUP'S ON. The free programs will tempt musical, artistic, and dramatic interests beginning with the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra's Baroque Ensemble on Sept. 16. Larry J. Blivert, Associate Professor of Art at Aquinas will speak on mural making Sept. 23, and Michael Page and Jeramy Pinsky from the Grand Rapids Civic Theatre will present an excerpt from Nell Simon's "Plaza Suite" called, "Simply Simon," on Sept. 30.

The series is held in the Wege Center from 12-1 P.M. In addition to being free, door prizes will be offered at each September SOPUCON. Two tickets for a Grand Rapids Civic Theatre performance will be given away on Sept. 16. A year's membership to the Grand Rapids Art Museum will be drawn on Sept. 23 and two tickets to a Civic Theatre production will be the door prize on Sept. 30.

The series will continue through Dec. 2 with further information at a later date.

The first Brown Bag Concert is today also. Bring a lunch outside and enjoy Burton and Tapper's music in the Mall.

For food lovers there is pizza and a rock-and-roll program on the giant T.V. screen in the Snack Bar from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 26.

Something altogether new this year, arranged by the Senate, is a trip to Arnie's Finlandia. Arnie's has water rides (bring a swimsuit), go carts and putter golf.

"Party Down"

The annual Fall Bowl Party is a time for students to relax, listen to bands, and meet people.

The bands will be set up behind Regina Hall in the hollow that is known as "Regina Bowl." The Senate, Aquinas Student Government, sponsors the event, which this year will be held on Friday, August 27.

The bands will be "Passion," starting at 1:00 P.M. and "Windfall," at 3:30. During the break between the two bands, the Senate has planned several games and contests.

Free food will be provided, pop all afternoon and hot dogs, and chips starting at 3:30.

To finish the day, there will be the traditional dance in the Wege Ballroom at 9:00 featuring "Universe."
