SAINTLY

Men's basketball team secures third regular season title in four years

By Becky Brown

Editor-in-Chief

What started with the road trip to Bangor finished with a home sweep on Saturday. After starting the season 0-5, the Saints are now WHAC champions.

Meanwhile, the Saints' stifling defense subdued Madonna, who upset Davenport 72-63, allowing the Saints to clinch the WHAC Championship with one game remaining.

Senior guard James Telman scored a game high 27 points and ten rebounds for his eleventh double-double of the season. Senior center Matt Lazic (right) reaches for a rebound while being guarded by Aquinas's Brandon Seals.

Lazic, used his body really well and has the touch whether he's driving in the paint or shooting from the outside, said Torres.

The Saints struggled through the first ten minutes before erasing a 15-point deficit after a 9-0 run. We have all the tools, once we figure out how to combine them, Senior guard Jordan Torres.

That was stepping up, said Torres. We have the intensity. We have the bodies. We have the contact, the size. We started getting stops, and it just carried on. We had a very good performance was good for Lazic's 12th double-double of the season. According to the Athletic Department, the seniors were "part of one of the most successful eras in the history of the men's basketball program."

Lazic's 12 double-doubles is the most for a Saint since 1995.

The A.T. at a Glance:

- 2,175 miles
- 14 states
- 6 national parks
- 2,000 species of plants and animals
- 6,625 feet
- Highest elevation

"Supporting cancer patients one penny at a time" by John Taylor & Becky Brown

Managing Editor & Editor-in-Chief

In the shadow of overwhelming tragedy, the opportunity to make a difference can arise. Senior Ben Richardson, in the wake of his father's death in cancer in May 2008, seized the opportunity to help and honors the memory of his father.

Richardson's mother, Linda, and he volunteered with Habitat for Humanity to help families in need. That was a big passion, and that's what got us into volunteering together, said Richardson.

In the months after his father's death, Richardson started brainstorming ways to remember his father and began discussing options with his family and friends.

Hiking the Appalachian Trail is something I've wanted to do. This was going to be a graduation present from my dad, said Richardson.

Because of Weinandy's support throughout the process, Richardson knew Weinandy needed to be involved with the cause.

I called up Weinandy the same day I had been thinking about it with my family and we started getting ideas going, said Weinandy.

Weinandy, who is one of the main reason for the success of this project, has been involved in PennyBen since the beginning.

By being such an organized and cause that I am deeply committed to, it has helped me become more involved with people and professional, said Weinandy.

PennyBen hopes to donate to organizations, particularly Hope Lodge in Grand Rapids, which helps families coping with cancer after the nonmedical costs associated with battling the disease.

The A.T. at a Glance:

- 2,175 miles
- 14 states
- 6 national parks
- 2,000 species of plants and animals
- 6,625 feet
- Highest elevation

SEE BASKETBALL PG. 3

SEE PENNYBEN, PG. 2
UPDATE: Student: Senator

By Khaled abd El Kader

Campus Safety. By Laws and Legislation Committee Chairman Brad Bosserman, asked the Senate to approve a resolution that would require staff and students to answer when being asked for their identification. He says it is currently impossible to verify who is a student or a staff member when they are asked to verify their identification. The resolution was passed unanimously by the Senate. The next Student Senate meeting will take place mid-April, March 4 at 7 p.m. in the Wag Hall Rooms. All Students, Seniors, and Faculty are welcome to attend.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When the crowd calms down for the third time and second to last time, I stood myself wishing for more than my last. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.

Commentary: On Senate

By Chrysa Rzecznowski

The bylaw proposal brought to the Senate floor on Monday, March 9, brought up very few questions at first. It was also brought up to the Senate floor in the Atlantic commission, because it would allow more students the opportunity to run for Senate, even if they did not decline the “super-wealth.” However, everything though when Vic Chana Redman proposed an amendment to the resolution that would change any requirements. The amendment passed and was adopted by the Senate, to a resolution that would change any requirements.

Pennsylvania.

Coll. pg. from.

When I stand over the crowd for the third time and second to last time, I stood wishing for more. I was thumped by the experience and the energy was going. One was very grateful to see students working together to support the organization. Additionally, you can pin hopes on the campus board to also support the organization. The organization is also planning an auction to be held at a date yet to be announced.

We’re going to be aching of a lot of money and all that, knowing one another, knowing your benefits and much different times, said Redford.
The Moose Cafe is an important part of Aquinas students' lives. It's a place for students to study, hang out, and enjoy a cup of coffee. The Moose Cafe was founded in 1996 to provide a student-oriented space on campus. The renovation of the Moose Cafe took place in 2005 to improve its facilities and make it more student-friendly. The Moose Cafe is located in a historical structure, and its design and layout were carefully planned to ensure a comfortable atmosphere for students. The Moose Cafe is managed by Jessica Weinandy, who hired all of the staff, including the student employees. The Moose Cafe is open to all students, and it is a place where students can meet and work together. The Moose Cafe is known for its delicious food and friendly staff, and it is a popular spot among Aquinas students.
The Saint Says "Keep the pink slips coming."

Almost six hundred thousand jobs were lost in the United States last month. The unemployment rate skyrocketed 7 percent.

Here at the Saint, we have a firm policy of keeping the pink slips coming. No one, no matter how superfluous or outstanding one may be, should hold a pink slip and face the consequences of an economic downturn. There is no better way to start turning the economy over and make both the President and Congress aware of the situation.

What is most important now is that the President and Congress have much needed accountability to the consequences being "baited out." There has been much talk of mutual benefit, but no executive compensation. Some argue that multi-billion dollar companies can axe the wrong executives. That's not good enough. If a person fails miserably at their job, fire them. This isn't a class issue or an issue of gender roles.

Incompetence doesn't deserve a job. If a person fails miserably that you needed a multi-billion dollar company to fail, then you're not good at your job. Maybe things would be better for everyone if the people who caused the financial crisis spent their remaining days in prison, instead of being executives.

"This isn't a close issue or an issue about "economic populism." This is a huge issue, a political issue, and an economic issue. If a person is responsible for a financial crisis, they should face the consequences of their actions, face the consequences of their inaction, and face the consequences of their choices.

The Saint says "Keep the pink slips coming."

By Brittany Brown

EDITORIAL BOARD

Managing Editor: John Taylor
Web Editor: Beth Radecki
Graphic Designer: Brian Dowling, News Editor of The Saint

Please note that the views expressed on this page are those of their respective authors, and do not necessarily represent the views of the Saint.

MISSION

The Saint has worked diligently for the past 27 years to produce an informative, entertaining and journalistically correct student publication. The Saint is distributed free of charge to all Kent State University students. Our goal is to continue to provide an open forum for the ideas, views and concerns of the Kent State community.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor must be submitted to the Kent State Student Union located in the lower West Lawn Student Center, via e-mail to newsroom@kentstate.edu, submitted online at www.kentstate.edu through the main menu of the following address:

AquaTree College
197 Robinson Rd, Ste. 38
Grand Rapids, MI 49506

All letters must be signed and include a phone number for the sole purpose of verification. The Saint reserves the right to edit for clarity in content, punctuation, length and style. Letters should not exceed 300 words and should e-mail. We will not print anonymous letters to the editor and will not accept letters to the editor over the phone.

ADAPMENT D: PREMIER HOUSING OPTION?

By John Taylor

The Illusion of Control: Privacy and Facebook

Editors' Note: This is an adaptation of a recent article written by Jonathan Pichot.

"I am not comfortable with the way Facebook handles personal information, " writes John Taylor, "and I am not comfortable with Facebook's business practices."

Ross Douthat, in an article first published in the Wall Street Journal, wrote that Facebook's "failure to adequately protect personal information" is one of the reasons why the social networking site has been "the most controversial company in the Internet Age." Douthat was not alone in his criticism, as Facebook's recent IPO (initial public offering) was accompanied by a wave of negative press, much of it focused on the site's alleged mismanagement of user data.

Douthat's article, however, contains a unique point of view that is often missed in discussions of Facebook's privacy policies. He notes that many people, particularly those who are concerned about privacy, are driven by a desire to maintain control over their personal information. This is an understandable sentiment, as the internet has become increasingly central to our daily lives.

However, Douthat argues that the desire for control may actually be working against us. He points out that Facebook is not alone in its failure to adequately protect personal information, and that many other companies are also guilty of similar practices. He cites the example of Google, which has been criticized for its lax approach to user privacy, and notes that even companies with strong privacy policies, such as Apple, have been accused of similar violations.

Douthat argues that the desire for control is often misplaced, and that it is not always effective. He suggests that people should be more careful about who they share their information with, and that they should be more willing to accept the risks that come with sharing information online. He also suggests that people should be more mindful of the impact that their online behavior has on others, and that they should be more careful about the way they use social networking sites.

Douthat's article is a timely reminder that the desire for control is not always effective, and that it is important to be mindful of the impact that our online behavior has on others. It is also a reminder that the internet is not always a safe place, and that we must be careful about the way we use it.

The Saint Reporter

Obama’s First Days: The Illusion of Hope?

By John Taylor

"It is natural for man to indulge in the illusion of hope," President Obama said when he took office in 2009. "It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all."

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.

It is the illusion of hope that sustains us all. It is also the illusion of hope that is being called into question by critics of the Obama administration. Critics argue that the administration’s proposed changes to the Affordable Care Act, for example, will cost more money and deliver less in terms of what is promised.

But the reality of the situation is that the Affordable Care Act is not the only issue facing the Obama administration. There are also concerns about the government’s role in the economy, the need for reform in the health care system, and the need for reform in the education system.

The President’s plans for change are not always as clear-cut as they seem. It is not always easy to tell what the President’s ultimate goal is, and it is not always easy to tell what the President’s plan is for achieving that goal.
Time to dress like a grown-up... a college grown-up anyway

by Jeannet Kadel

Throughout Broadway's extensive history, the cast of performers who seem all too pleased to spoof the traditions of classic rock and roll, is the cast of performers who seem all too pleased to spoof the traditions of Broadway mockery by the performance of making it very hard on the audience finds themselves in a world where all the players in it.

After your freshman year, you should not be wearing pajamas on the streets — even if you're at the dorm. But here's my question — if you are already wearing pajamas on the streets, then perhaps it is time to move forward with your life. After all, it is time to move forward with your life.

Also, speaking of comfortable bottoms, please try to stay away from those padded pants styles. They will only make you look like you are 5 feet 5 inches. These pants styles are not the best for the serious student. They will only make you look like you are 5 feet 5 inches. These pants styles are not the best for the serious student. They will only make you look like you are 5 feet 5 inches. These pants styles are not the best for the serious student.

Neutral colored leggings, such as brown or tan, are typically the choice for the People Eater. Neutral colored leggings, such as brown or tan, are typically the choice for the People Eater.

Wearing bathrobes in public is wrong for the state of Michigan, because of their wonderful talent and unique culture. The concert and dinner will be held at 6 p.m. on March 28th at Wege Cafeteria, I have occasionally noticed that outfitting for classes and performances is a necessary part of being a student at Aquinas College. But here's my question — if you are already wearing pajamas on the streets, then perhaps it is time to move forward with your life.

The outer vest is a loud band of color, in anticipation of classic rock and roll and thefill from the 60s and 70s. The Outer Vite will be performing at the Downtown Lathrop Bar on Sunday, March 1 at 2 pm.

Aquinas Wanders into Forbidden Broadway: Kiss Klyche Goodbye

by Alex Wilson

He is an actor who can conceal his influence past the point of interpretation, as a shallow Bird has done that already. There are certain kid's books from Bird's collected albums. All the shows. But his favorite Radiohead pieces, his eerie soundscapes, his use of electronic instruments, his use of synthesized layer, it plays as music from a European dance-club.

The album swaggers into attention as a short sidebar track with the label "Kiss Cliches Goodbye." It is a beautiful, solid performance.

Grand Rapids Symphony

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

The second to last track "Stairway to Heaven" impresses with its depth and reach. The song is a beautiful, solid performance.

The album opens up as a picture book looking for the best days of summer. With these words held tightly to the side of the listener’s mind, Bird’s slightly melancholy dust settles into the listener’s mind. The last track turns over the album with a new voice, a greater sense of purpose. Throughout the 54 minutes of Noble from the famous finds a final dimension.

Grand Rapids Symphony Annual Celebration of Soul event returns

A&E Editor

Stephanie Gerling

He's Just Not That Into You won't be getting a Best Picture nomination, but now is not certain what he wants. He meets an attractive woman (Johansson) in a restaurant and tells her, that there is no one else in the world for him. However, she is not sure what she wants and asks him, if he is sure about him. He says yes, that he is sure. The woman is not convinced and asks him to come back, that she will make a decision in the future. The man leaves and the woman is left wondering, if he will come back.

By Sarah Freehafer

Every year or so, a group of A-list stars get together and make a film for the fun of it. The latest entry is "He's Just Not That Into You," directed by Ken Kwapis and starring Jennifer Aniston, Cameron Diaz, Chris O'Donnell, Bradley Cooper, and others. The couples reflect the roadblocks women (and men) face when it comes to dating, whether it is the timing of cookie sales. Why during the month of February? If you are single, you may find yourself reconsidering your life decisions. If you are married, you may be surprised to know that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that best explored the initial thesis, were the ones that
Volleyball: Late Aquinas coach induced into Hall of Fame
Carl Coutis, a former head volleyball coach at Grand Valley State University, has been induced into the Athletics Hall of Fame. Carl, a former Aquinas student-athlete, was only 25 years old when he started his coaching career. In 37 seasons, he won 1,126 matches, lost 404, and his teams were first in the GLIAC 13 times. The 2007 retiring of his only three seasons who he suddenly died at an early age.

Breaking up with the Cubs

By becky brown

The Chicago Cubs have torn my heart apart. I have had a lot of ups and downs with the Chicago Cubs. I have had a lot of different emotions towards the Cubs. My family’s lack of support for my love of the Cubs has been during our years together.

I wish the Cubs success in their 100 year one—but I thought I might be

Hockey: Griffines second in North Division of AHL

The Grand Rapids Griffins are currently in first place in the Western Conference in the AHL. The Griffins have won 26 of their 40 games this season. Griffins center Harry Howick has scored 24 goals in 40 games. Howick is currently second in league scoring with 54 points. Sixteen of Howick’s points are assists. Griffins forward Matt Garbowsky has scored 24 goals in 40 games. Garbowsky is currently third in league scoring with 50 points.

SportsCenter: MT Rushmore of Sports final five states released

Australia selected Brazil, E. A. A. R. Jackson, J. W. Johnson, and D. Hendrickson. Robert selected Hawaii, E. A. A. R. Jackson, and D. Hendrickson. The selections are made by the state’s flagship university, their football team, and their best known athlete. The selections are made by the state’s flagship university, their football team, and their best known athlete.

What to watch: WHAC Tournament

The first round of the WHAC Tournament will feature four teams in the quarterfinal round. The first round is scheduled for Thursday, March 5. The semifinals will be held on Saturday, March 7. The championship game will be held on Sunday, March 8. The first round games will be held at the WHAC Tournament site.

NCAAs men's basketball moves towards March Madness

By becky brown

Editors-in-Chief

By Becky Brown

The Chicago Bulls have torn my heart apart. I have had a lot of ups and downs with the Chicago Bulls. My family’s lack of support for my love of the Bulls has been during our years together.

I wish the Bulls success in their 100 year one—but I thought I might be

Can't keep it in the tank: The Cubs are not having fun, and the Aquinas women’s basketball team is out to prove they are the best team on the floor.

Peppered by a lot of people use the phrase “it’s not me.”

On Friday, March 6, 2009, the Saint Reporter published an article titled “Augsburg Women’s Basketball Team Fights Against Adversity.” The article was written by Kyle Mahoney and was about the Augsburg Women’s Basketball Team’s fight against adversity.

The Aquinas women’s basketball team has started the season off at Madonnia University at home. All their last meeting was at Madison on Jan. 17. Aquinas beat the Crusaders 65-58. On their second meeting, head coach Linda Nash could not explain what happened as “weird.” While strong on offense, the Saints’ defense was “a little bit better.” Nash was too cool.

The Saints went on to lose 25-31 in their first year of the season, which is the first year of the season.

The main point of the story was that the Saints were not good enough to win.

Fukudome starting in the outfield is probably the most likely scenario. Fukudome has a lot of potential to be a big contributor offensively and defensively. Rumors have Reed starting at second base—I see Fontenot as the starting roster will remain with 21 points and a career high 15 rebounds, and free-agency signerg Logan Morgan made out there for this year’s season.

"You're keeping the job to yourself. And I'm not going to let you do that."

If Fukudome doesn't start at second base, I see Fontenot as the starting roster will remain with 21 points and a career high 15 rebounds, and free-agency signerg Logan Morgan made out there for this year’s season.

"You're keeping the job to yourself. And I'm not going to let you do that."

The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans. The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans.

"Our ending goal would definitely be winning our regional," said Magee. "We want to make it, and we aren't going to remember what your record was, but you're going to remember the way we beat you." The team won 17-0.

"I hope we can finish with a bang on one of the lowest run totals in the country," said Magee. "I hope we can finish with a bang on one of the lowest run totals in the country, but we've hung together," said Nash.

That year, we're not going to remember what your record was, but you're going to remember the way we beat you."

The Cubs and the Indians are working toward a potential resolution to the playing of “Take Me Out to the Ball Game” at Wrigley Field.

The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans. The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans. The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans.

The Cubs are beautiful all season, I'm also saddened by the departure of their fans.

"It's a great victory for the kids, and it's a great victory for the coaches, and it's a great victory for the fans," said Magee. "It's a great victory for the kids, and it's a great victory for the coaches, and it's a great victory for the fans."
Aquinas baseball looks to improve from last season

By Matt Bergevin

The Saint Reporter

Aquinas—they start off their season from a year ago. After posting a frustrating one and three record last season, being pushed out of conference play. The Saints

The road to the Championship

March is coming soon, and, as always, the number of strategies. And there are no guarantees, of course, that getting there is going to be easy. This will be challenging for the conference leaders, but the Saints are ready to take on the challenge. The team has a strong offensive and defensive mindset and is confident in their chances of winning.

Aquinas intramural sports near transition

By Matt Bergevin

March is coming soon, and, as always, the number of strategies. And there are no guarantees, of course, that getting there is going to be easy. This will be challenging for the conference leaders, but the Saints are ready to take on the challenge. The team has a strong offensive and defensive mindset and is confident in their chances of winning.

Aquinas softball ready to hit the field

By Matt Bergevin

The Saint Reporter

Auburn's softball team is ready to hit the field.

The Saints will be looking to build off their strong season from a year ago. After posting a frustrating one and three record last season, being pushed out of conference play. The Saints

The road to the Championship

March is coming soon, and, as always, the number of strategies. And there are no guarantees, of course, that getting there is going to be easy. This will be challenging for the conference leaders, but the Saints are ready to take on the challenge. The team has a strong offensive and defensive mindset and is confident in their chances of winning.

Aquinas intramural sports near transition

By Matt Bergevin

March is coming soon, and, as always, the number of strategies. And there are no guarantees, of course, that getting there is going to be easy. This will be challenging for the conference leaders, but the Saints are ready to take on the challenge. The team has a strong offensive and defensive mindset and is confident in their chances of winning.